Unfortunately, that is correct all of the Gann materials will only be available through Enterprise (We later may move to a different product, but long story short, they won't be on Bibliocommons.) However, the catalog itself is still updated and usable—it just doesn't look the same, or search the same.

Here's an old library photo to put with it if you want. It fits with the March literacy theme.

Patrons can now view hundreds of photographs taken by the Benton Courier mostly in the '70s and 80's on the Saline County Library website by going to [REDACTED] and typing "Benton Courier Collection" in the search bar. More are being digitized and added every day!

I am planning the content calendar for April, and I see that National Gardening Day is on Friday, April 14th.

Next month I will post about the seed library on this day instead of the 15th.

If you have any special marketing request for National Gardening Day, just let me know!

Here are my thoughts/comments from the document

Create new company goals

Marketing goals

- Add a goal for the Instagram account
- Are we going to make a separate Facebook page/group?
- Event Idea: It would be fun to do a live episode with an author

[Note: Sophie Stern has said that she would love to be on the podcast sometime.]

Special Dates: We released Episode 1 on March 1, 2023. Episode 2 will be released around March 15. Instagram posts go up on those dates as well.

Marketing Team

Alan, Amanda, Lyndsey, Kari, Francesca

Budget & Projections

- Podbean account/subscription
- Microphone
- Instagram account (free)
- Swag/Promotes/Giveaways would be fun!

Thanks

Seriously Chatty Librarians Podcast:

Seriously Chatty Librarians, a Saline County Library podcast, features librarians Alan, Amanda and Lyndsey talking about the public library, which, if you know public libraries, means they can talk about anything and everything. And they do! In the second episode of Seriously Chatty Librarians, a Saline County Library podcast, librarians Alan, Amanda and Lyndsey discuss their reading habits and other related bookish topics.

From a marketing perspective, I think that Instagram post need to be more consecutive and also making Instagram reels would be beneficial to attract a following I don't really listen to podcast but I like how Amanda does her trailers for Fictional Hangover Maybe we could do something like on Instagram reels

I hope that makes sense

I noticed a couple of these things on Saturday on FB

- Adult art show album needs Bryant's pictures added. I think there were 7?
- I miscounted the Teen's -- it's 57, plus 2 from Bryant so the caption needs to be updated to 59
- Bryant teen submissions need to be added (I think there were two)

You can be the person that comes in every single week and the family that waits until the last day to bring the whole summer in. I need to know what doesn't make sense & what doesn't work. If you can, try to keep up with what you entered so I can run reports & make sure I'm getting the information we'll need at the end of the summer.

DID YOU KNOW? Another tidbit about this place we call home...

PROGRESS UPDATE

Next Monday, March 6, the Board and General Manager will be releasing a statement regarding the status of this project.

ANIMAL WELFARE LEAGUE

MARIO WANTS A WALKING BUDDY

Mario loves his walks! He is doing well in his foster home, ignores the cat and gets along fine with the dogs. His favorite activity is napping but he also loves to play in the fenced backyard and is happy to go for a car ride with you. He is cuddly but is also very independent. Mario is good with kids but because he is a senior at 10-1/2 years old, a home with older kids or adults- only would be best. Mario is a 15 pound schnauzer looking for a walking buddy. Please contact HSV Animal Welfare League 501-915-9337 or hsvawl.org and fill out a dog application.

Tween post:

15 creative submissions in the Tween division of this year's Tiniest Art Show between both branches -- who will be the "Community Favorite"??

Be sure to 'like' your favorite submissions, and feel free to share! In case you missed yesterday's post, go vote for your favorites of the Children's division, and watch for the Teen and Adult submission to cast your votes for those, as well!

I have attached all of Benton's Tween pictures here, but you'll need to grab the Tweens from the pictures Becca sent you. You only need to add The Lovely Garden, No Title, and Black Lives Matter for the Tween post.

On Facebook:

- rename album "Children's Division--Tiniest Art Show 2023" and then the same for the other albums (tween, teen, and adult)
- remove all of the Bryant submissions from the Children's album -- the youngest was 9, which is technically Tween

I will get you a graphic for the winners by the staff judging for the magazine by Friday.

I would direct them to the patron taught form. 1. If they actually fill out the form, then we at least know they are more than just a gimmick. 2. Then we can see a little better what their intentions are: sell product or educate. 3. Then if we think the program is something needed, we can contact them with follow up questions to let them know they are promoting it themselves and this cannot be to just advertise their business.

But, I am always open to letting these people do a class to EDUCATE the public on their own time. Like we did the job fair- its on them.

Unfortunately, that is correct all of the Gann materials will only be available through Enterprise (We later may move to a different product, but long story short, they won't be on Bibliocommons.) However, the catalog itself is still updated and usable—it just doesn't look the same, or search the same.

Introducing the Benton Courier Collection!

Patrons can now view hundreds of photographs taken by the Benton Courier mostly in the '70s and 80's on the Saline County Library website by going to https://midarls.ent.sirsi.net/client/en_US/salinecountylibrary/? and typing "Benton Courier Collection" in the search bar. More are being digitized and added every day!

Art Unites!: Tiniest Art Show

ArtUnite TinyArtShow23.png

Good morning, everybody!

Get out your spectacles and magnifying glasses because it's time for our 2nd Annual Tiniest Art Show!

After last year's success, I had to bring it back! This year to give people some sort of starting point with their art, I decided to give the show a theme and tie it into our upcoming "All Together Now" summer reading program theme The theme is "Art Unites!," as we have learned how important connection and unity are to our individual and society's wellbeing. "Art is not what you see, but what you make others see" -- so the theme is whatever you make of it!

As usual, there will probably be plenty of questions that get asked over the next two weeks, so here's the big details:

- TO PARTICIPATE: Pick up a FREE Tiny Art kit, while supplies last! Kits are available BY REQUEST starting TODAY at both branches at the Youth Service desks.

*we have 150 kits TOTAL, and I am not, repeat NOT, making anymore

*we want people to have to ask for them so they're more likely to actually bring them back to display

*Bryant, y'all's kits are coming over this morning!

OPEN TO ALL AGES, all skills, and all interpretations of the theme last year we had submissions from ages 2 to 80!

Submissions are due by February 28!

- Exhibit will display from March 6-31

- They will be judged and winners for each age group will receive...something (no clue what said something will be other than it'll be nicer than a certificate, but that's as far as I've put thought into that)

- STAFF ARE WELCOME TO PARTICIPATE!

*If you would like to participate, and you're in Benton, I have all the same supplies IN Makerspace so we can save the kits for patrons!

*For Bryant staff, I also have a handful of kits that I ran out of the black white brown paints and had those set aside to preferably give to staff first and can send those to y'all if you'd like to participate as well! I know Becca has plenty of paints and stuff in Makerspace too if you need those missing colors!

Hopefully this will answer any questions you might receive! Pretty much all other questions will have answers found IN the kits but let me know if you do have any questions!

Have a wonderful day!

New Library Marketer Shares Her Winning TikTok Success Secrets!

Angela Hursh, Library Marketing Expert

Francesca Castro has been visiting libraries for as long as she can remember.

“My mother took me to children's programs at the public library when I was very young,” recalled Francesca. “Then, in elementary and middle school, I begged my parents for cash to spend at the annual book fair. In college, I was pulling all-nighters and made some of my best memories of my academic career in the library.”

Now, not even a year after graduating from Arkansas State University with a degree in communications, Francesca is working her first professional job at a library. And her success, particularly around TikTok, is inspiring library marketers twice her age, myself included.

Francesca is a Marketing Coordinator for the Saline County Library in Benton, Arkansas. The library has a service population of about 85,000 residents.

Francesca's interest in managing the library's TikTok began during her interview. "I remember asking if Saline County Library (SCL) had a TikTok account," she said. "Their response was no. So I told them if they hired me, I would make a Saline County Library TikTok account and that I had gone viral a few times on my personal account and would want to do the same for SCL."

"I understand that it is hard to grab the attention of teens and tweens these days and a lot of them are already on TikTok, so why not bring the library content to them, " continued Francesca. "I also use the platform to show that libraries are more than what people assume that they are. I have made videos about what working in the library is like versus what people probably think it is like, and I make sure to post content that shows you can check out items other than books."

🎵 original sound wandakardashian

Francesca has created more than 40 posts on TikTok since she launched the Saline County Library account, which has nearly 500 followers. One of the most popular posts is a simple, short slideshow of storytime set to music.

@salinecountylibrary

Today is nationalrubberduckday! We celebrated by having a story time, singing songs, and even adopting your very own rubber duck. #librarytiktok

🎵 Rubber Duckie - Sing N Play

She's quick to jump on trends, like this one featuring the Titanic theme. Francesca also appears in some of the posts, which adds a personal touch to the account and adds a face that library patrons may recognize when they walk into the building.

#librarymarketing #booktok #librarytiktok

🎵 well this is gonna be my personality - Ted Nivison

Francesca does have a secret formula for TikTok success based on her experience and research.

"I have learned to almost spam posts on TikTok," she revealed. "The algorithm on TikTok is like an endless loop, and videos from weeks ago are still floating on the surface. Unlike other platforms, your post would not be the first to pop up on the screen after a few days. The reason I say spam post is because the more videos you post, the more content you have going through that endless loop."

Ranking the chairs around the library #librarytiktok #Inverted

🎵 original sound - SendAFriend ✨

"Another tip I have figured out is to keep the content short and relatable. The key to success on TikTok is to be short, entertaining, and straight to the point."

And even though consistency is key, Francesca admits she is not always consistent when it comes to posting TikToks. "I usually post them when I have an idea, and I get inspiration from other library TikTok accounts. I try to post 3-5 times a week."

Many library marketers are also intimidated by the process of editing videos for TikTok. But Francesca says you don't need fancy editing software or third-party apps. Simplicity is key.

"When it comes to editing the videos, I usually just edit them on TikTok, which only takes a few minutes," she advised. "I will say I am consistent with the hashtags I use. I like to use #Librarytok #librarymarketing, and #booktalk."

And although she's only six months into her new role, Francesca has advice for other libraries looking to use TikTok to reach new audiences.

"If you are unsure about starting a TikTok page, I suggest you have a person or a team of people who are outgoing and not shy to run the page," she said. "The advice I would give any Library would be to beware of trends and KNOW YOUR AUDIENCE!"

Viewer note: The next Super Library Marketing post will be released on Monday, February 27.

Here is the long list of upcoming events to look at when making your schedules. I would love to know a month in advance who is attending if at all possible. If you would like more information on an event and what is needed, please ask me. I appreciate any support I can get from staff

- March 11th - Miracle League 11-1p - River center in Benton - needing Storytime performers (1-2).
- April 1st - Sunset Fishing Derby - 8a-1p - Sunset Lake Benton - Anna/Rachel table duty, Bella (Kari?) and 1 staff member for game station for kids
- April 20th Third Thursday 4p-9p Downtown Benton Bella, Wendy and looking for 1 more staff member
- April 22nd - Hiking Trip - Glory Hole Falls Ozark National Forest - 6a - 6p (return time may be earlier) - Bella & one staff member

- June 2nd (tentative) - HSV SRC day - ? - Coronado Center - Bella (puppets or storytime staff 2)
- June 24th - Hiking Trip Bois D'Arc Wildlife Refuge - 6a-6p - Bella & one staff member

Remember, you can typically bring your kids to these events if that is an incentive for you. If you choose to do an event, please let me know as soon as you can so I can make sure to plan accordingly. Once people in this chain divvy things up, it will go out to all staff if I still need help, however we don't get many volunteers for that. I really rely on help for these, so I fully appreciate you taking the time to do these things, however, don't stress yourself out to make something work. You all have your own programs and events, so I understand. If you can't attend but would like to contribute in other ways like making kits or providing flyers or items that pertain to your area, feel free.

Question- What do you guys think about having all the stats in one excel workbook like we do for the budget instead of so many different excel workbooks? It would just make it easier when I have to do the stat reports. So one tab would be programming, one tab outreach, one tab social media. And that way the workbook would be called 2023 CED Stats.

Just a little reminder, (please do not take this as nagging, but a kind request)

When you take things out of the CED closet to use for programming or otherwise, please put things back where you found them. I can't stress this enough. I work constantly to keep that space organized for us and others who use it. The purple cart on the left is NOT for you to dump things on, instead of putting things back where you found it. This goes for anyone who uses the space or borrows things. If you are working with someone outside of our department and using our things, it is YOUR responsibility to make sure they also put things back where they go.

As we get closer to spring and summer, I will be extremely busy with events and will be in and out of the closet a lot. It would really help me to not have to pick up after other adults to keep the space walkable and organized.

I have kept this in as long as I can, but it feels that for as long as I have been in CED, I am constantly finding things just thrown about in haphazard places. We can do better for the sake of everyone. If you are not sure where something should go, ASK. Communication is key. Take a note from Susie, who is always so good about keeping people in the loop about using shared items by sending an email or message. If we all can do this, there won't be pressure on certain people to clean up after other

Subject: Marketing Images

We have changed up a few things in marketing and I wanted to send out a message before I forget. Please remember, we may add to this list since we have started new campaigns, are using new software, and just want to further our reach. If I have forgotten to add someone on this, I apologize and ask for you to forward to whoever you see necessary.

1. If you send us a book list or book review, please also have that list/review on your biblio account. We want to link directly to our catalog for books and it would be great to show off these two great features. (Amanda, I used your Legends & Lattes review as my tester so that shows up as my review but I added it was your review. Whenever you want, you are more than welcome to put the review on your profile. I will keep it on mine ONLY because I used it for the link in the Feb newsletter.)
2. Images for programs- We are using a canva template for the communico images, TV Tiles, and FB Event cover photos. But, for the e-newsletter, the thumbnail is so small that we cannot use the template. So for those, please put the image in a folder labeled "Month Images Only" If the image comes from Canva, you can let me and Fran know and we can download it or you can open a blank powerpoint template in Canva, add the image and fill the space, then download as JPEG. This is what we would do.
3. Events to highlight in the newsletter- We only have space to highl ght 3 events per age group and then we added a special Event Spotlight feature. If you have certain events you want highlighted for your age group, let us know. Otherwise we will just try to switch it up each month.

Thank you,

Happy Friday, everyone!

Last night, I had a Mardi Gras mask decorating program. Not a single patron attended (but 3 very sweet co-workers helped ya girl out—preesh! Y'all are the bomb!), which means I have masks leftover. About a dozen in fact. I'm trying to see if anyone on staff is interested in decorating a mask I'd like to create a display with all of the decorated masks and let patrons vote on their favorites, since they seem to enjoy that so much.

If you're interested, please reply to me and not to all, and I'll get you hooked up!

Have a great weekend!

It can be a surprise to the next person that they need to fill up and they may have not timed their route or time slot for that.

ArtUnite TinyArtShow23.png

Good morning, everybody!

Get out your spectacles and magnifying glasses because it's time for our 2nd Annual Tiniest Art Show!

After last year's success, I had to bring it back! This year to give people some sort of starting point with their art, I decided to give the show a theme and tie it into our upcoming "All Together Now" summer reading program theme The theme is "Art Unites!" as we have learned how important connection and unity are to our individual and society's wellbeing. "Art is not what you see, but what you make others see" -- so the theme is whatever you make of it!

As usual, there will probably be plenty of questions that get asked over the next two weeks, so here's the big details:

- TO PARTICIPATE: Pick up a FREE Tiny Art kit, while supplies last! Kits are available BY REQUEST starting TODAY at both branches at the Youth Service desks.

*we have 150 kits TOTAL, and I am not, repeat NOT, making anymore

*we want people to have to ask for them so they're more likely to actually bring them back to display

*Bryant, y'all's kits are coming over this morning!

OPEN TO ALL AGES, all skills, and all interpretations of the theme last year we had submissions from ages 2 to 80!

Submissions are due by February 28!

- Exhibit will display from March 6-31

- They will be judged and winners for each age group will receive...something (no clue what said something will be other than it'll be nicer than a certificate, but that's as far as I've put thought into that)

- STAFF ARE WELCOME TO PARTICIPATE!

*If you would like to participate, and you're in Benton, I have all the same supplies IN Makerspace so we can save the kits for patrons!

*For Bryant staff, I also have a handful of kits that I ran out of the black white brown paints and had those set aside to preferably give to staff first and can send those to y'all if you'd like to participate as well! I know Becca has plenty of paints and stuff in Makerspace too if you need those missing colors!

Hopefully this will answer any questions you might receive! Pretty much all other questions will have answers found IN the kits but let me know if you do have any questions!

Have a wonderful day!

New Library Marketer Shares Her Winning TikTok Success Secrets!

Angela Hursh, Library Marketing Expert

Francesca Castro has been visiting libraries for as long as she can remember.

“My mother took me to children's programs at the public library when I was very young,” recalled Francesca. “Then, in elementary and middle school, I begged my parents for cash to spend at the annual book fair. In college, I was pulling all-nighters and made some of my best memories of my academic career in the library.”

Now, not even a year after graduating from Arkansas State University with a degree in communications, Francesca is working her first professional job at a library. And her success, particularly around TikTok, is inspiring library marketers twice her age, myself included.

Francesca is a Marketing Coordinator for the Saline County Library in Benton, Arkansas. The library has a service population of about 85,000 residents.

Francesca's interest in managing the library's TikTok began during her interview. "I remember asking if Saline County Library (SCL) had a TikTok account," she said. "Their response was no. So I told them if they hired me, I would make a Saline County Library TikTok account and that I had gone viral a few times on my personal account and would want to do the same for SCL."

"I understand that it is hard to grab the attention of teens and tweens these days and a lot of them are already on TikTok, so why not bring the library content to them, " continued Francesca. "I also use the platform to show that libraries are more than what people assume that they are. I have made videos about what working in the library is like versus what people probably think it is like, and I make sure to post content that shows you can check out items other than books."

Francesca has created more than 40 posts on TikTok since she launched the Saline County Library account, which has nearly 500 followers. One of the most popular posts is a simple, short slideshow of storytime set to music.

@salinecountylibrary

Today is nationalrubberduckday! We celebrated by having a story time, singing songs, and even adopting your very own rubber duck. #librarytiktok

🎵 Rubber Duckie - Sing N Play

She's quick to jump on trends, like this one featuring the Titanic theme. Francesca also appears in some of the posts, which adds a personal touch to the account and adds a face that library patrons may recognize when they walk into the building.

I love marketing for my library ❤️ #marketing

#librarymarketing #booktok #librarytiktok

🎵 well this is gonna be my personality - Ted Nivison

Francesca does have a secret formula for TikTok success based on her experience and research.

"I have learned to almost spam posts on TikTok," she revealed. "The algorithm on TikTok is like an endless loop, and videos from weeks ago are still floating on the surface. Unlike other platforms, your post would not be the first to pop up on the screen after a few days. The reason I say spam post is because the more videos you post, the more content you have going through that endless loop."

Ranking the chairs around the library #librarytiktok #Inverted

🎵 original sound - SendAFriend ✨

"Another tip I have figured out is to keep the content short and relatable. The key to success on TikTok is to be short, entertaining, and straight to the point."

And even though consistency is key, Francesca admits she is not always consistent when it comes to posting TikToks. "I usually post them when I have an idea, and I get inspiration from other library TikTok accounts. I try to post 3-5 times a week."

Many library marketers are also intimidated by the process of editing videos for TikTok. But Francesca says you don't need fancy editing software or third-party apps. Simplicity is key.

"When it comes to editing the videos, I usually just edit them on TikTok, which only takes a few minutes," she advised. "I will say I am consistent with the hashtags I use. I like to use #Librarytok #librarymarketing, and #booktalk."

And although she's only six months into her new role, Francesca has advice for other libraries looking to use TikTok to reach new audiences.

"If you are unsure about starting a TikTok page, I suggest you have a person or a team of people who are outgoing and not shy to run the page," she said. "The advice I would give any Library would be to beware of trends and KNOW YOUR AUDIENCE!"

Viewer note: The next Super Library Marketing post will be released on Monday, February 27.

Remember, you can typically bring your kids to these events if that is an incentive for you. If you choose to do an event, please let me know as soon as you can so I can make sure to plan accordingly. Once people in this chain divvy things up, it will go out to all staff if I still need help, however we don't get many volunteers for that. I really rely on help for these, so I fully appreciate you taking the time to do these things, however, don't stress yourself out to make something work. You all have your own programs and events, so I understand. If you can't attend but would like to contribute in other ways like making kits or providing flyers or items that pertain to your area, feel free.

Thanks!

I've attached a page with the edits to the FOL webpage on our site. The items in blue are things I added, and the items in yellow are things that need to be removed.

On the main page of our website at the bottom where it has a link to the FOL page, can the wording be updated to say "Volunteer with the Friends" instead of "Join the Friends"?

Question- What do you guys think about having all the stats in one excel workbook like we do for the budget instead of so many different excel workbooks? It would just make it easier when I have to do the stat reports. So one tab would be programming, one tab outreach, one tab social media. And that way the workbook would be called 2023 CED Stats.

Just a little reminder, (please do not take this as nagging, but a kind request)

When you take things out of the CED closet to use for programming or otherwise, please put things back where you found them. I can't stress this enough. I work constantly to keep that space organized for us and others who use it. The purple cart on the left is NOT for you to dump things on, instead of putting things back where you found it. This goes for anyone who uses the space or borrows things. If you are working with someone outside of our department and using our things, it is YOUR responsibility to make sure they also put things back where they go.

As we get closer to spring and summer, I will be extremely busy with events and will be in and out of the closet a lot. It would really help me to not have to pick up after other adults to keep the space walkable and organized.

I have kept this in as long as I can, but it feels that for as long as I have been in CED, I am constantly finding things just thrown about in haphazard places. We can do better for the sake of everyone. If you are not sure where something should go, ASK. Communication is key. Take a note from Susie, who is always so good about keeping people in the loop about using shared items by sending an email or message. If we all can do this, there won't be pressure on certain people to clean up after other

Subject: Marketing Images

We have changed up a few things in marketing and I wanted to send out a message before I forget. Please remember, we may add to this list since we have started new campaigns, are using new software, and just want to further our reach. If I have forgotten to add someone on this, I apologize and ask for you to forward to whoever you see necessary.

1. If you send us a book list or book review, please also have that list/review on your biblio account. We want to link directly to our catalog for books and it would be great to show off these two great features. (Amanda, I used your Legends & Lattes review as my tester so that shows up as my review but I added it was your review. Whenever you want, you are more than welcome to put the review on your profile. I will keep it on mine ONLY because I used it for the link in the Feb newsletter.)
2. Images for programs- We are using a canva template for the communico images, TV Tiles, and FB Event cover photos. But, for the e-newsletter, the thumbnail is so small that we cannot use the template. So for those, please put the image in a folder labeled "Month Images Only" If the image comes from Canva, you can let me and Fran know and we can download it or you can open a blank powerpoint template in Canva, add the image and fill the space, then download as JPEG. This is what we would do.
3. Events to highlight in the newsletter- We only have space to highl ght 3 events per age group and then we added a special Event Spotlight feature. If you have certain events you want highlighted for your age group, let us know. Otherwise we will just try to switch it up each month.

Happy Friday, everyone!

Last night, I had a Mardi Gras mask decorating program. Not a single patron attended (but 3 very sweet co-workers helped ya girl out—preesh! Y'all are the bomb!), which means I have masks leftover. About a dozen in fact. I'm trying to see if anyone on staff is interested in decorating a mask I'd like to create a display with all of the decorated masks and let patrons vote on their favorites, since they seem to enjoy that so much.

If you're interested, please reply to me and not to all, and I'll get you hooked up!

Hi!

Can the poster that y'all made for the Friends' 50 cent Sale be blown up to fit on the Sandwich board? If so, could y'all print off two copies of it so that they could use one downstairs and one upstairs?

Thank you!!!

The promotional banner is split into two main sections. The top section features the "TOGETHER WE READ US" logo, which includes a stylized graphic of an open book with yellow and blue pages. Below the logo, the text "TOGETHER WE READ" is prominently displayed in a bold, blue, sans-serif font, with "US" in a smaller font underneath. The bottom section of the banner has a dark teal background with a close-up image of a woman's face. The text "River Woman, River Demon" is written in a white, serif font, with "By Jennifer Givhan" in a smaller white font below it. At the bottom of this section, it says "Live on your OverDrive site until March 15" in a green, sans-serif font. To the right of the banner is a tablet displaying the book cover for "River Woman, River Demon" by Jennifer Givhan. The cover art features a woman's face surrounded by green foliage and pink flowers.

When you click Benton, it shows this:

Day(s) preferred for reservation (Benton)

- Monday morning
- Tuesday morning
- Tuesday afternoon
- Thursday morning
- 2nd Saturday morning

The "Tuesday morning" does not need to be there. Needs to have Monday afternoon. For some reason, Bryant's option is also funky and includes both Tuesday morning and afternoon, although theirs is only in the morning. (I don't know if that's a glitch or something you can see and fix?)

Can you make them say, for Benton:

- Monday morning (9 am - 12 pm)
- Monday afternoon (2 pm - 5 pm)
- Tuesday afternoon (3 pm - 6:30 pm)
- Thursday morning (9 am - 12 pm)
- 2nd Saturday morning (9 am - 12 pm)

And Bryant's:

- Thursday afternoon (2 pm - 5 pm)

Hi Kari Lapp,

I did a search of the website's content in the database, here are the pages that I found that have links to the old catalog system:

- <http://www.alinecountylibrary.org/elibrary/>
- <https://www.salinecountylibrary.org/about/our-library/>
- <https://www.salinecountylibrary.org/about/our-library/faqs/>
- <https://www.salinecountylibrary.org/elibrary/books-more/>

- <https://www.salinecountylibrary.org/services/anywhere-support/pocket-librarian/>
- https://www.salinecountylibrary.org/?page_id=1466

I think every other mention of the old catalog was in an older blog post (over 50 of the e), but those don't seem worth your time to update in my opinion. If you disagree I can prepare a list of those as well!

Best,

Mark Steininger

Subject: March 2023 Social Media Schedule

Good morning and happy Friday,

First and foremost, thank you all for your hard work and dedication to our library!

Please remember that the deadline for getting events into Communico is March 5th. Keep in mind that March 5th falls on a Sunday so be sure to plan ahead. If you need an extension for your events, please let me know asap. Last-minute additions often require redoing entire layouts and formatting of the magazine, so this deadline is firm to make sure the magazine is edited, finished, and sent out on time.

Here is the March 2023 content calendar! The color-coordinated schedule includes:

- Book Madness will be ongoing and posted weekly. Please remember to share and vote on Facebook!
- Seed Library will be posted on the 1st and 15th of every month.
- Saturdays will be a resource highlight post and Sundays is our regular "This Week" post.
- #MakerspaceMonday is posted weekly for highlighting special events, hours, kits, .
- News stories and booklists are posted twice weekly. Please be aware of these due dates! (Y'all are doing great with this btw!)
- (R) indicates a reminder post. This is not the day of the event, but just a general promotion to remind people of recurring or previously promoted events.

Key things:

- All posts are scheduled ahead of time and are automatically posted based on what is in the calendar. Please make sure your calendar events are proofed so that they are posted correctly.
- If you notice an error needs to be made after the 5th, please contact me directly so I can make edits to anything affected
- If you need or want any specific instructions or captions for any posts, please let me know asap.
- If something needs extra (or less) promo, let me know so I can adjust the content calendar, if possible.

As always, I am happy to listen to your ideas and corrections! If there is anything I have overlooked or that you would like to change somehow, let me know asap and we can figure it out together! Thank you again!

Subject: Re: Book Madness !!

Could we have four brackets, with each bracket having 16 books in a genre? Surely we could come up with 16 romance titles, classics, YA... I mean, who wouldn't want to see an elite 8 matchup between Goodnight Moon and Where the Wild Things Are? A final where Eric Carle takes on a Brontë sister?

Good Afternoon friends,

I have an idea! I need your help!!

March is just around the corner, and I would like to have our version of March madness, but instead of basketball players, we use books!

Therefore, I present book madness!!! My idea is to have 16 different books. Each week throughout March, four books get eliminated! Voting will take place through Facebook.

Friends, can you please be so kind as to, send me book recommendations for this contest and also to share and vote on your favorite books on our Facebook page (when this happens)!

I also plan to have a poster of the bracket in the lobby with the books Velcroed on the poster
If anyone has any questions or would like to bring more ideas to light feel free!!

Good morning!

Just a reminder that if you assist someone with an outside booking of the meeting room in Benton, be sure you choose "Meeting Room" and not any of the other locations unless otherwise approved. A great way to do this is to visit the Reserve a Room page on our website and fill in the information for the person there: <https://saline.libnet.info/reserve>. If there are any conflicts, this page very clearly shows this and will not allow the booking to be placed.

Please, let me know if you have any questions or would like a refresher on how to reserve the meeting room for community members.

Thank you for all that you do!!!

Hi Wendy,

Our Small Fry Club is continuing to bring in some great speakers. I'm looking forward to the Saline C. Library week coming up in two weeks.

I have a couple questions for you.

a) I have these "Caught you doin' good" coupons to offer the library to use in any programs you wish. The coupon is for a free ice cream cone, cookie or package of apple slices. I'd be happy to drop some off to you.

b) Now that we're midway into our program we're getting some regular family guests and I want to see if I can attract some more families that haven't heard about it yet. Does the library have an email they send out that we could get a mention in? Next week, Mayor Tom Farmer will be coming to answer the burning question: What does a mayor do? I think it will be a unique visit and I'd love for more kiddos to come for these free events.

Thank you,

Hi Wendy,

If this is where we left off, I'm trying again. I've filled out the form. And just in case, here are the details I put in the form.

McDonald's is starting the Small Fry Club on Tuesdays at 10:45am for preschoolers at the 1023 Military Road location in Benton. Small Fry Club will kick off Tuesday, Jan. 10 and run weekly through March.

We're inviting a different guest speaker to come each week and give a 10 minute talk with some show & tell that would suit this young age group. We'll meet in the Play Place which is a glassed-in area with its own entrance from the outside. In your case, probably a book reading and a craft for the kids associated with the story would work well, But I'm absolutely open to ideas from you -- basically anything suitable for preschool-aged kids.

This is a new program we're starting, and we will promote your appearance in the weeks leading up to the event. The dates still open are: Jan. 24, Feb. 7, 14 and March 14. (I did select one date on the form, but we still have a few Tuesdays with openings.)

We will provide the library with flyers leading up to the event that the library can post and pass out.

We also have some fun coupons that you could give out to your young library patrons to remind them you'll be at McDonalds on your scheduled day. Or you can use them in other ways as you see fit.

WE ask that you bring the presentation materials suited to your talk. This may simply be the book you'll be reading. If the craft is something you have on hand - great! If we need to supply craft elements, that is doable as well.

You are welcome to bring other library materials that you'd like the preschool families to know about.

Small Fry Club meets in the Play Place and therefore we do not need rainy day alternate plans. However if there was a need to reschedule, we would simply move it to a future Tuesday.

The guest speaker could arrive by 11:40am, unless there was significant set-up involved.

As the marketing manager, my office is at 8300 Stagecoach Rd, Suite 400, Little Rock AR 72210. My office phone number is 501-386-5386.

Thank you for looking at this again.

Hi Francesca and Kari,

Here are some photos of some things we have on permanent display. The office furniture came with the building in the 80s but it belonged to Dr. Dewell Gann, Sr. He lived from 1863 to 1945. The Niloak pottery is next. That stuff was made using kaolin clay found in the Benton area by employees of Charles "Bullet" Hyten (1877-1944). Niloak is kaolin spelled backwards. The fire poker was used by Tom Staner to murder two women in 1877. His was the last legal execution in Saline County. And the log cabin exhibit was constructed from pieces of two log cabins. The mantle is from the Pete Steele cabin on the Shaw Community (1872) and the top logs are from the Mac Staner cabin where the murders took place in 1877. Anything else you need, let me know!

I am thinking something like 6AM so people can look at it when they wake up and then decide to listen on their commute. What do you guys think?

For the Tiniest Art Show Newstory

Ashlyn Wilcox <ashlynw@salinecountylibrary.org>

Mon 2/27/2023 5:38 PM

To: Francesca Castro francescac@salinecountylibrary.org

“All art has this characteristic—it unites people.”

After last year's incredible turnout, the Tiniest Art Show returns for the second year, on exhibit at both branches from March 6th – 31st!

Embracing the 2023 summer's reading program theme — "All Together Now" — this miniature art exhibit is bringing together patrons of all ages and talents from all across Saline County, to showcase exactly how "Art Unites!"

Humans crave connection—an instinct that was key to the survival of the first civilizations and that is still vital today. However, the recent worldwide pandemic made connection more complicated. Forced to find new ways to communicate, work, and even learn—society sacrificed face-to-face meetings and physical contact to protect our community from COVID-19. When separated by screens, masks, and six-foot distancing, many of us came to appreciate the emotional and physical closeness we once took for granted.

We learned how important connection and unity is to our success, growth, and wellbeing as a community, as well as our individual emotional health and sense of belonging. Having meaningful connections with one another helps us thrive, find direction and support in life, and remember that we are not alone.

Through this art showcase, we are bringing to life the idea that — no matter how small — together we can create something amazing!

Hi, all!

I have been meaning to send you an email to give you directions about how to score the team player survey.

- 1 Complete the survey
2. Tally results.
3. Circle the highest number at the bottom in one of four categories (Contributor, Collaborator, Communicator, Challenger). This is your team player style. If you have any other scores within 3 points of your highest score, circle them, too. Most people have one primary team player style, although some people have 2 primary team player styles. Even fewer have 3 primary team player styles. Rarest of all is someone who has all four styles in equal (or near to) measure.
- 4 Once you have established your team player style(s), you can read up on what your particular style(s) brings to any team project.

Thanks!

Hi all,

Julie and I have found a treasure trove of photos that are now available in the library catalogue under the name "Benton Courier Collection." I suggest that we do a short post about Benton's first and only black mayor, Mr. Charles Cunningham. He served as mayor in 1981. I'm including a link to what should be a picture of a younger Mr Cunningham at work

Here's my entry on him.

I ran into this gentleman Warren Kuhn at a ribbon cutting today and he is with the Station 4 Fire Museum in Haskell. He said last year he put together a museum day in September for the 7 museums in the county and wanted to see if we were open to do it this year. I gave him my card and he said he would see about setting a meeting next week. Y'all let me know if there are certain days that work or don't work for you. His card is attached.

I have just changed this to send out on Mondays. Jeff, can you please remove Jordan Reynolds from the Facebook Authorizations and add Francesca. Also, I am not sure why it says I am invalid and how do I fix that.

Dear Rachel, Patty, Julie, Leigh, Rebecca, Kari, and Francesca:

We noticed that you haven't yet chosen which day of the week we should email a preview of the news/reviews that will appear in your next Wowbrary newsletter. Therefore, we haven't been sending these weekly previews to anyone signed up for them, namely Kari Lapp and Francesca Castro.

To choose the day of the week for these preview emails, please go to your Contacts page and select the day you want at the top of the column labeled Gets weekly news/reviews previews. If you instead don't want the previews, just uncheck all contacts in that column.

Please let us know if you need assistance with this.

Thanks very much,

CED Meeting 2-22-23.docx;

I have already printed copies but here is the agenda for today. We will be doing things a little differently and NOT going over programs one at a time. So if you have a program you need to discuss, let us know in the meeting. I am hoping our "business" will be a little quicker today because I have an activity planned for the second half of the meeting.

Thank you,

I have cancelled our Tech Connect Spanish class next weekend due to lack of registrations. I have to give the interpreter a week's notice so I have decided to cancel it. We will no longer be having specific Spanish classes but if someone is requesting a Spanish 1:1, please let me know and we can see what we can do.
