I have a question for you

Go for it!

I'm downstairs if you need in person.

Are you in a meeting?

I see you btw

Do you still have the CED hot spot or did you put it on my shelf?

Your office. I can bring it to you

Thank you!

How long are you going to be at the library?

I'm not there anymore. I'm at Walmart

Okie dokie!

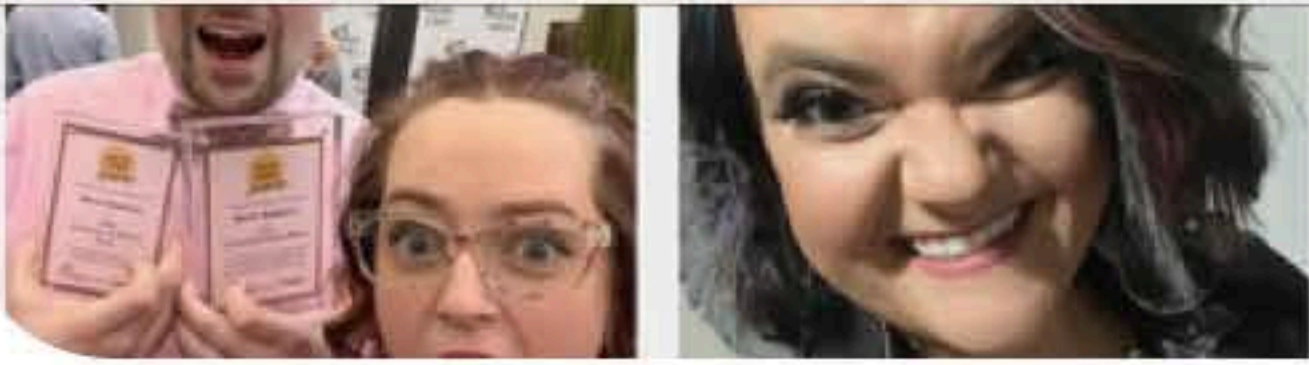

Do you need something? I need to print something but I'm debating on doing that tomorrow but idk

No. I just left the Gann closed signs and was going to run by and pick them up.

I still will, I was just checking to see if anyone else was there. 😊

What did the YS programmers change on the tiles? I have the same ones on sharepoint.

They updated them on sharepoint.

They had the wording weird and one of them had the location wrong.

Alan received his Library Science degree in 2021. This requires him to read a lot and live a retiring life with multiple cats. He is an overachiever on both fronts. This is his third library job, after serving as circulation coordinator for both Southern Park College and Henderson State. Alan's five cats allow him to reside alongside them at a lovely spot near Lake Ouachita so long as he keeps them fed, watered, and mildly entertained. So far, so good.

Is it okay to erase the part where it says, "at a bar" after karaoke? Just to keep the connotation safe?

As libraries, we don't own judicially recognized obscene materials. We also respect the First Amendment, allowing parents the freedom to chose what is appropriate for their children to checkout instead of other parents or even librarians. We have a question when you get a minute

Mon, Apr 10 at 1:17 PM

Is my team in your way?

I'm not in there at the moment, so whatever they're doing is fine.

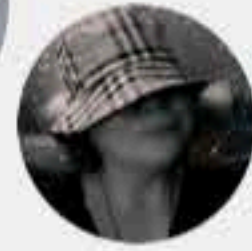

Ok let me know if that changes

Just letting you guys know I moved some of your stuff into the CED workroom yesterday. IT moved the servers yesterday but they needed their computers and areas to test and setup the network starting tomorrow. I found out late Friday night. Don't want you to go in tomorrow and be shocked.

Mason Newberry

Ok!

Susie Sward

Thanks tor the heads-up!

Sun, Apr 9 at 8:24 PM

Also heads up- Geoff knows where the stuff that was left in your office is. It will be a hot mess in the morning but it's ok. We will sort things out. IT worked all day today and yesterday too just move things basically. So please remember they may seem

IT worked all day today and yesterday too just move things basically. So please remember they may seem tired and a little moody. Several people in all departments may feel that way this week but it's nothing personal. It's just a week of change and we will make it!

Do we get a new HSV pass for the car at the beginning of every year?

BC

Alan Robinette

Yes - the Rogue should have one good through November, I believe.

Bella Cusimano

Okay cool! We saw a sign about getting a new one at the entrance so I was wondering

Yeah after I took the picture I noticed and tried to smooth them out better. Ugh 😂

Alan Robinette

Those look great!

Vinyl is such a two-faced jerk!

Wood burning- Communico says 5:30-7 but tv tile says 6-7

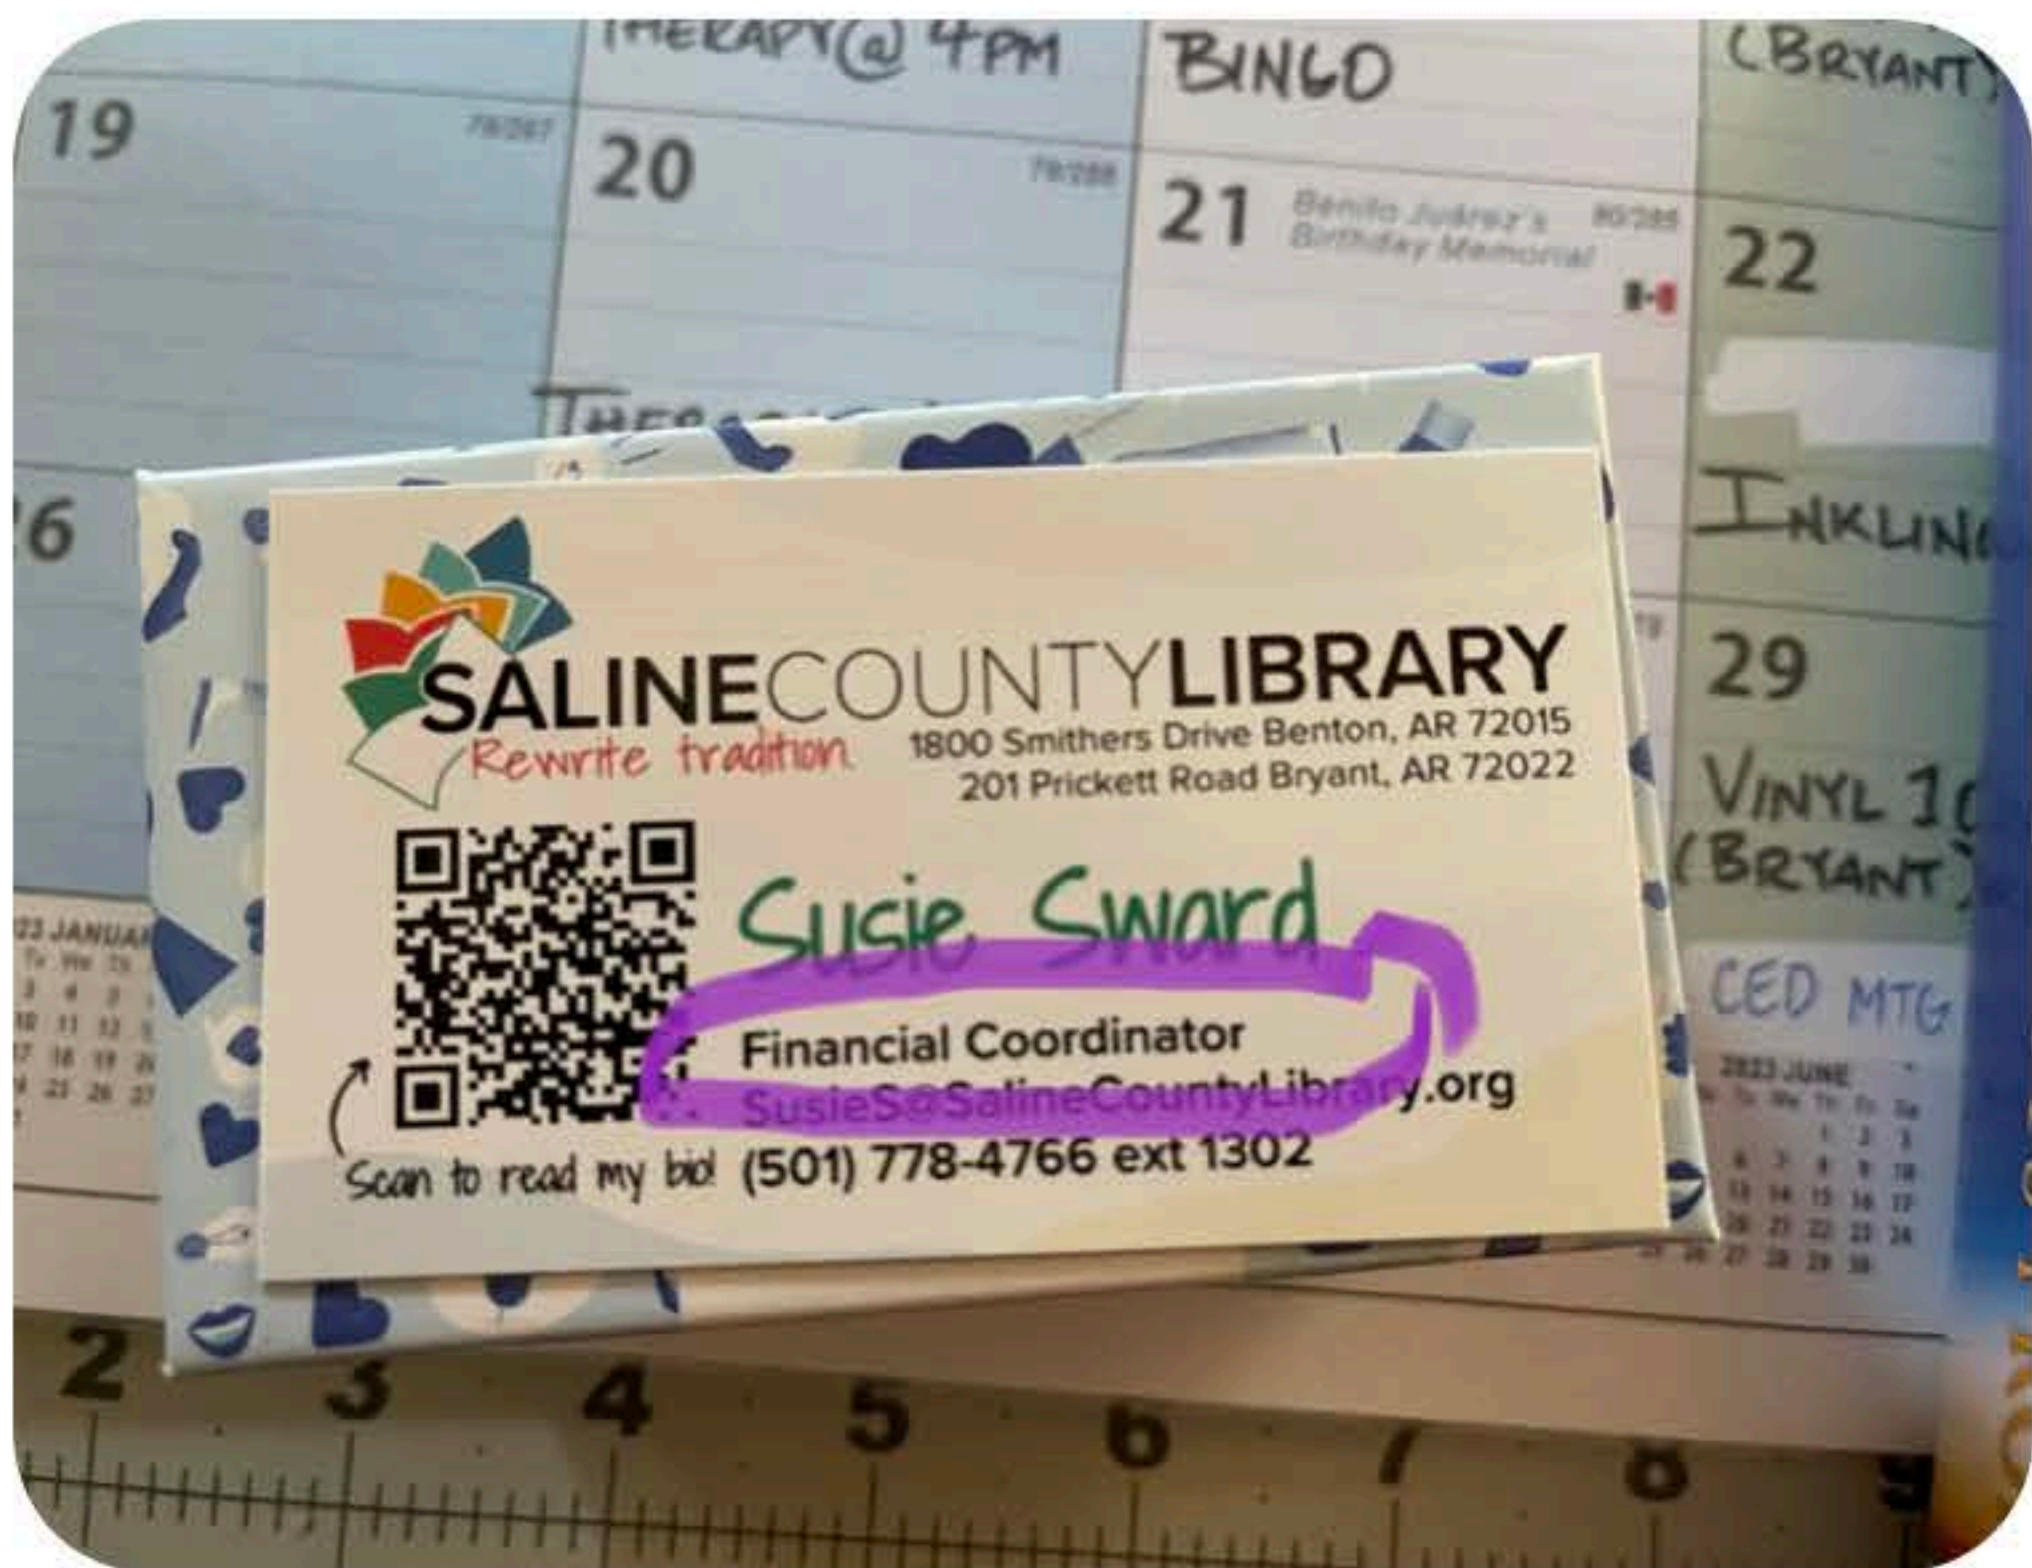

Oops 6-7

I'll fix it!

Sounds good

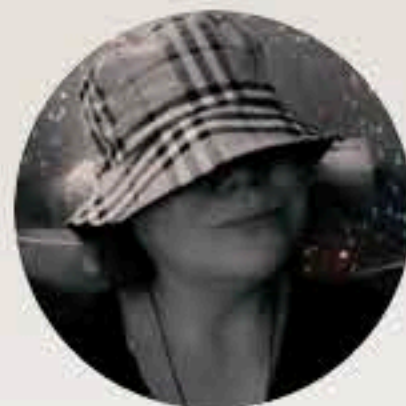

Done!

Are they free?

Leigh Espey

HA HA

That's super sweet of them to ask! If they are free, we could take them and offer them to one of the MidArk libraries. I don't think we have a need for them unless I can fit both on my office for guests. 😂😂😂

My stomach was hurting a little bit more this morning and it's the kids half day at school so I'm just going to work from home when I can and I will update my timesheet. And then just a reminder that tomorrow is working from home because it's our spring break for the kids.

My grandmother was admitted to the heart hospital on Friday night and transferred to the Big heart hospital last night. Me and my aunt have been taking turns taking care of her. She was supposed to go home tonight but they have now decided she is high risk and want to do more tests. My aunt cannot get off tomorrow but will take off Tuesday. I can take my laptop up there tomorrow and get the calendars corrected and ready to print. I am sorry to ask last minute but we really thought she was going home. Below is the message from my aunt with the latest update.

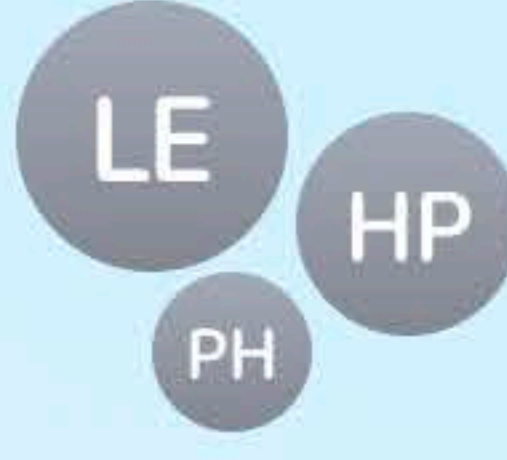

Still running test. We thought she might get to go home today after the heart catheter. If there was blockage they were going to do a stint and send her home. She only had one spot and it was only

Still running test. We thought she might get to go home today after the heart catheter. If there was blockage they were going to do a stint and send her home. She only had one spot and it was only 40% and they only stint at 70%. They said it wouldn't be what caused this. So now they are doing an MRI and a EP test to see what could be causing this. She's at high risk now since there wasn't blockage and her Troponin numbers are high. So now if she has another one they said she might not come back from it. The dr said if the mri shows what he thinks then she would need a defibrillator. So just more wait games and more test. More prayers please. Love y'all!

Patients need an advocate with them

She has her husband but he doesn't remember things most of the time and can't understand. We fed her today and it was so bitter sweet. Cutting her food up and spoon feeding her like she did us when we were little.

Do we already visit Alcoa pines or have them on our homebound list?

Mason Newberry

MN I take books to two residents out there

Bella Cusimano

BC We don't visit them on my side of thing s

Ok. One of the ladies in admissions is at LOL today and she is really interested in our visits.

Ben, we didn't have anyone register for our Spanish class this Saturday so we removed it from the calendar and there is no need for you to come. Thank you for being available and we will let you know how March looks.

Wed, Feb 15 at 4:21 PM

Ok. Thank you.

Thu, Mar 9 at 2:41 PM

Hello Ben! Just letting you know we have cancelled our Spanish class for this month also. I appreciate you being willing to help and I am sorry it didn't work out like we hoped. But we will definitely keep you in mind for future events!

Ok. Thanks you for letting me know.
