Good morning!

Just to give everyone a heads up, the Clark server, which houses PC Res and the selfcheck/RFID systems in Benton, has died its final death. 😟

Luckily, this should only affect Benton. Rob and Geoff are working diligently to get Cloud 9 set up on all of the public computers so that patrons will still have internet access by the time we open at 9:00; then, they will move on to figuring out the self-check/RFID situation.

Please, be patient and understanding as they navigate through today.

Subject: Re: [Arklib-I] Senate Bill 81 - House Judiciary Committee meeting on March 7th at 10am

These are some of the talking points I have tried to boil down after hearing from a lot of folks. I have it broken down by each section of the bill. Feel free to add or comment as you see fit.

Section	Problem
1	<ol> <li>Access to information is protected under the First Amendment unless it is one of a few classes of unprotected speech. Arkansas law requires a judicial determination (§5-68-406) to determine that something is not constitutionally protected speech. "Harmful to minors" is a new class of unprotected speech. Section 1 does not require this determination.</li> <li>The phrase "makes available" is overly broad and infringes on adult's rights to protected speech. If an R-rated movie is on the shelf, we have it has been "made available", even if it is legal for an adult patron to borrow it.</li> </ol>
2	<ol> <li>Section 2 removes due process for librarians.         <ul> <li>a. Material has to be declared obscene by a court of law before charges can be filed (§5-68-406). That's how our laws work. A crime has to have been committed before an arrest can be made. This amendment would allow for the arrest of librarians before a judicial determination of obscenity has been made.</li> </ul> </li> <li>Removes equal protection under the law.         <ul> <li>a. Libraries and schools are now liable, but not museum employees? Why? Some libraries are also museums and vice-versa. How would that work? You could potentially have a work of art that is obscene, but the museum employees are protected, whereas the library employees would be liable for an art book with an image of the work. How could a reproduction of something be obscene, when the item itself is not?</li> </ul> </li></ol>
4	<ol> <li>There has been no fiscal impact statement on this section. Book challenges can be expensive propositions and this bill creates an unfunded mandate on schools.</li> <li>This could affect the waiver process that school districts have to undergo in order to not have a licensed media specialist. This bill takes away more local control, particularly for rural schools that can't afford to pay for licensed librarians for each of their school media centers.</li> </ol>
5	<ol> <li>There has been no fiscal impact statement on this section. The fiscal impact statement prepared &amp; submitted for SB 81 was filed before the amendments and only applies to criminal charges, not challenges. Book challenges can be expensive propositions and this bill creates an unfunded mandate on public libraries.</li> <li>The bill allows for persons with no standing to file court challenges. It just says "a person affected by the material." We could have the same dozen people in one city challenging hundreds of books in libraries statewide, costing cities and counties tens of thousands of dollars.</li> <li>This section violates the separation of powers. It grants judicial powers (determining whether materials are protected speech or not) to a legislative body (quorum court or city council). The appeal to a quorum court or city council is the most problematic part of the bill. Not only is it granting judicial powers to a legislative body, it doesn't even require those bodies to apply the standards set forth in the law. There is no consideration for the Miller Test or the constitutionality of the material in question. It simply states that the governing body shall review the reports and make a decision.</li> <li>This section violates the First Amendment rights of other library patrons based on the personal tastes of one person over another. The Quorum Court or City Board could declare protected speech illegal in their city or</li> </ol> county based on the whims of one group over another. The library is tasked with having materials available for everyone in the community- not just what one group feels is safe over another.

- 1. This section can have unintended consequences for libraries. Requiring libraries to disclose confidential records to any parent could cause some problems- especially in regards to children from broken homes. Many library users are teenagers whose parents are not in the picture and their home life is far from ideal. These teenagers have signed for financial responsibility for their own accounts. There have been documented cases in Arkansas of teenagers who are experiencing sexual abuse at home who come to the library for help. Hours later, parents show up demanding to know what their kids have been asking about or what they checked out.
- Attorney General Opinion 2001-258 implies that if a child signs for responsibility for their own card, then they are the patron for the purposes of confidentiality.

Hello everyone!

Please, refresh your memory on what to do in the event of severe weather. There is the chance for potentially severe weather throughout the afternoon. Remember in case the tornado sirens are activated, everyone in Benton will go to the restrooms downstairs and grab the emergency kits (one located in my office, one located in the closet next to the children's restroom downstairs). In Bryant, the designated areas are the family restroom, women's restroom, and the staff restroom. Bryant emergency kits are located in the staff restroom and the server room located next to the family restroom.

Make sure you know who is designated to check each area to ensure patrons know to either take shelter or exit the buildings. If any patrons do not want to seek shelter, they must leave the buildings; they cannot stay out in the open.

Please, let me or you manager know if you have any questions.

Subject: Damaged Items

We have received two books here of late that have damage but their was no red (damaged/missing) slip with them. One was a new book, had only checked out once, and a note of the damage was put on the item in the system the day the item was returned. I just wanted to make sure Circ staff knows for Bryant items to complete a red slip and send it in the bags with the damaged item. Also, that a note of the damage shouldn't be put on the item in the system unless it is old damaged that doesn't require a red slip. I am proud that they put their initials and date though, that really helps to reach out to someone if I have questions.

Name, author, and Barcode of two books:

Skyward Flight: The Collection by Brandon Sanderson and Janci Patterson 34766005304361 (This is the item described above)

The Girl from Widow Hills by Megan Miranda 34766005138249 (This one had dog chew marks at the top of the spine)

Also, as I was prepping my reminder letters to patrons who are charged for damaged items I noticed a damaged book had been waived at Benton on a patrons account,

Book, author, and barcode: Beyond Tuesday Morning by Karen Kingsbury - 34766002881254

Could I please be notified/referred if a patron comes in questioning a damage charge to their account that was charged at Bryant? This is so Benton can get some background and details on the item or to see if I had already spoken to the patron. The item was returned wet, the damage is very noticeable and the patron should have paid for the item. I do remember talking with this patron on the phone and wasn't to happy about the charge. I did tell could come in and look at it if would like too. It seems took another route to get it waived.

I wasn't sure if I should send this out to Benton Circ. staff or if this is something I should email you guys about first

Thank you!

I was trying to view the camera footage in the teen area aka "Rec area" in the 3VR system but no footage would pull up. You can see that people are coming and going from that area from the Juvenile camera aka "Childrens area" in the 3VR system. Could it be looked at to make sure it is working? Also, could we get some of our camera names corrected to match the area they are in?

Basic Book Repair

Publish date - March 8th

Many libraries strive for high circulation, but the more books are handled, the more likely they will be damaged. And, a beat-up book is hard to read—especially if pages are missing!

One way to combat the inevitable wear is to make simple repairs on things like torn and loose pages and hinges before they become bigger problems. This practice can extend the life of well-used books, and you can easily do these repairs in-house. With a few simple tools and a little know-how, you can save time and money and get slightly damaged books back into circulation quickly.

Handling Difficult Conversations

About Race

Publish date - March16th

Many people want to have meaningful conversations about race but aren't sure where to start. They're afraid of making mistakes, getting off-topic, or not knowing what to say.

Talking about race is difficult and uncomfortable, but it is an important part of working towards equity. These conversations are hard for almost everyone. But there are ways you can prepare for and encourage respectful, open discussions.

Collection Development Basics – Ethics

Publish date - March 20th

Intellectual freedom is the right to seek and receive information without restrictions. It is often called the freedom to read and is one of the most important library values.

As a collection development librarian, you help guarantee intellectual freedom by selecting materials that help patrons learn and discover new things, expand their worlds, and generate new ideas.

Kovels – Information on Antiques and Collectibles

Publish date - March 31st

Kovels is the go-to source for expert information, pricing, and trends on antiques and collectibles. Learn the value of your grandma's antique pottery or a recent flea market find in just a few clicks.

Body language tool - what to do with your hands

Ryan Dowd <ryan@homelesslibrary.com>

Mon 3/13/2023 10:38 AM

To: Rebecca Kidder <rebeccak@salinecountylibrary.org>

Your body language is SUPER important when you talk to troubled customers.

I explain why in the 3.5-hour Core Training Course but let's just say it's so important that I have a whole 1-hour supplemental training called Advanced Body Language.

In the mini training a few weeks ago we looked at how you should stand (remember, not facing the person but instead turn your body 15°).

Now we'll take a look at your hands. Here are four things to avoid:

- Arms crossed this says "I'm judging you."
- Hands on hips this says "I don't approve of you."
- Pointing at the person this says "I don't like you."
- Hands balled up in fists this says "I'm going to punch you."

Instead you should stand with your hands in your pockets or behind your back. This sends a message of calmness and casualness. Both say "I'm comfortable being around you."

Many experts recommend keeping your hands to your sides (instead of putting them in your pockets or behind your back) because the latter can make someone with paranoia nervous, but I have never personally experienced this.

The only time you don't want to follow this advice is if you think you might get punched.

When I think I might get punched, I do what I call the "Praying Ninja." I put my palms together in front of my face (like I'm praying) and "talk with my hands." It's effective because it allows me to keep my hands in front of my face to protect it, but it doesn't look like I'm trying to protect myself.

I hope this helps!

Peace,

Ryan

P.S. If you'd like to see all our trainings, we offer a free 2-week trial (one person per organization). Just REPLY to this email and let us know you're interested (please include your name and organization in your response).

I also noticed that some of the numbers have come off of the Amazon receipts when they are taped to the papers. Thank you so much for your help with this matter.

Hi, all!

I have put an interdepartmental envelope in today's delivery containing the March Crafts2Go kits for your branch. Envelope is addressed to Bryant/CIRC from Susie/CED. The March craft is sun prints. Each kit contains 4 sheets of cyanotype paper and instructions, so kits are small and slim this month. They drop next week on Wednesday.

Dealing with Homeless Clients Compassionately

Ryan Dowd author of "The Librarian's Guide to Homelessness"

3-Step Plan

Step 1 Go one layer deeper in the lives of the people you serve.

a) Trauma

Trauma changes the brain. It affects the prefrontal cortex where decision making, abstract thought and mood regulation takes place; the amygdala is the center for fight or flight and has no capacity for language. Trauma damages the prefrontal cortex and makes the amygdala hyperactive. When it is hyperactive it suppresses the prefrontal cortex. The consequences are that people misperceive threats and over react; they have difficulty self-regulating emotions and they're impulsive. Almost all people experiencing homelessness have experienced trauma

b) Time

Time if experienced differently. People without trauma have a timeline of decades (think about or plan things for the next months, years, decades like retirement). If you don't have your basic needs met (shelter, food and safety), then you don't/can't think more than 24 hours in advance. They have a difficult time planning and any punishment beyond tomorrow has no additional deterrent effect. (Telling them you will ban them from the library for a month or a year is the same as banning them for a thousand years. Escalation of punishment doesn't work.)

For most people punishment works because we do a cost/benefit analysis. Is speeding today worth getting a ticket and paying a fine? For people with mental illness, substance abuse, trauma or a short time horizon punishment doesn't work.

Step 2 Neurochemistry – Why People Follow Rules (or not)

Serotonin, Dopamine and Oxytocin are good chemicals that lower aggression, lower impulsivity and increase empathy. Things you can do to increase these chemicals in someone's brain:

- Handshakes
- Eye contact
- Smiles
- Predictable ritual
- Social standing (treating them as equals)

Cortisol is a chemical that increases aggression. It takes about 24 hours to flush it from your system. Any kind of stress triggers its release. Most homeless people have too much cortisol in their system and not enough time between stressors for it to decrease.

Step 3 Practice Small Changes

To lower conflict, don't use aggressive body language. When speaking to someone, pivot your body at a 15 degree angle—as if 3 people were talking (e.g. no one is face to face).

SB81 is going before the House Judiciary Committee on Tuesday, March 7th at 10:00 am. If you want to go, let me know! This counts as work time, BUT we still need people to cover the desks.

I'm planning to go, depending on how many others want to. I can always stay and cover the desk.

Let me know if you're planning to go so I can get the desk schedule organized. 😊

So, we've been having some issues this morning with all of our adult computers. None of them seem to be connecting to the Konica printer. An alert popped up that said something about the printer being offline or not installed, but the printer is very much on. I emailed Rob about the issue. Wish us luck!

Time and homelessness

Ryan Dowd <ryan@homelesslibrary.com>

Mon 3/6/2023 10:35 AM

To: Rebecca Kidder <rebeccak@salinecountylibrary.org>

Let's face it - those of us who have never experienced homelessness cannot understand someone who has been homeless for decades.

But if we begin with the premise that we don't fully understand the life of someone who is experiencing homelessness, we can begin the path to true empathy.

Chronically homeless individuals experience so many things that are outside the mainstream that their world is different from yours in significant ways.

One of the biggest differences?

TIME

If you didn't get to that part of the webinar, I encourage you to skip ahead to ~21:20. You don't want to miss this lesson.

Basically, we all have time horizons - how far we think into the future.

For most of us our time horizon includes next weekend, next month, next year, maybe even way into the future such as retirement. You've thought about those future times and likely have some sort of plan.

Want to guess what the time horizon is for individuals experiencing homelessness or in crisis?

24 hours

Basically, if a person's needs of food, clothing, shelter, security aren't being met, they can only focus on surviving. They can't worry about what's happening next week or next month.

Why does this matter?

Most organizations use "punishment-driven" enforcement. You break the rule, you're kicked out for a week, etc.

When dealing with a person with a shortened time horizon, such as folks in crisis, this sort of threat isn't effective.

Again, if you missed this part of the webinar I encourage you to watch it. It's key to understanding the vulnerable folks you serve.

Peace,

Ryan

P.S. We offer a free 2-week trial to all our training videos. If you're interested, just hit REPLY and let us know you'd like a free trial.

Michael Jordan and Homeless Patrons

Ryan Dowd <ryan@homelesslibrary.com>

Tue 3/7/2023 11:20 AM

To: Rebecca Kidder <rebeccak@salinecountylibrary.org>

When Michael Jordan got mad at the other team, did he ever throw the ball at them (dodge-ball style)?

Well, actually, he did once.

Why didn't Michael throw the ball at the other team all the time? I'm sure he got frustrated and wanted to!

Because that isn't how you win games. Throwing the ball at the other team might have been emotionally satisfying for Michael, but it would not have helped the Bulls win. The goal is to win, not to get the emotional satisfaction of dodgeball.

You need to "be like Mike" with your homeless patrons. You need to know your goal.

Your goal—your ONLY goal for problematic patrons—is to get them to follow the rules. That's it. It really is that simple. Here are some examples:

- Getting a patron to stop shouting.
- Getting a patron to put her shoes back on.
- Getting a patron to stop staring at another patron.
- Getting a patron to leave.

Staff members have all sorts of other goals that have nothing to do with gaining compliance with the rules. For example:

- Getting a patron to respect you (or to respect your organization/facility).
- Defending your coworker's honor (or your own).
- Teaching a patron "a thing or two."
- Getting a patron to feel sorry for his actions.

Trying to accomplish any of the above is like Michael Jordan throwing the ball at the other team, dodgeball-style: it might be emotionally satisfying, but it is not the goal and it will create problems for your team.

Peace,

Ryan

No Buy-In or Budget for Marketing at your Library?

LibraryWorks <kathleen@libraryworks.com> via mailchimpapp.net

Wed 3/8/2023 10:22 AM

To: Rebecca Kidder <rebeccak@salinecountylibrary.org>

A LibraryWorks presentation ...

No Buy-In or Budget for Marketing at your Library?

Here Are 20 Things You Can Do to Change That!

March 23, 2023; 2:00-3:00PM Eastern

Many libraries have no budget dedicated to marketing, and that's not healthy for our field. Our competitors (Amazon, streaming services, local-event organizers, entertainment complexes) advertise a lot, which keeps them top-of-mind for potential users. Libraries, on the other hand ...

So if your administrators won't allocate a respectable amount of money to promote your products and services, how can you convince them to change their minds? After discussing this challenge with countless colleagues, marketing-communications maven Kathy Dempsey has assembled a list of 20 actions you can take to get your bosses' buy-in and financial support for marketing and promotion. Register to learn:

- What you & your boss need to understand about each other's positions
- How to explain that "marketing" probably isn't what they think it is
- What sort of data is useful to track and present to make your case
- Words and phrases that can increase your chances of success
- How LinkedIn and networking can help

This information can help you reach the right mindset for these conversations and will help you prepare the data and the words necessary to build the buy-in to move your initiative forward. Level:Intermediate.

Presenter: Kathy Dempsey wrote the popular howto book The Accidental Library Marketer and founded her own marketing consultancy, Libraries Are Essential. Her work is dedicated to helping librarians and information professionals promote their value and expertise in order to gain respect and funding. Kathy has been the Editor of Marketing Library Services newsletter for 29 years, and was formerly Editor-in-Chief of Computers in Libraries magazine. She's Founding Chair of the Library Marketing and Communications Conference. This writer, editor, and marketing maven has been giving presentations across the U.S. and Canada for 27+ years, always sprinkling them with humor to make marketing concepts more interesting and accessible.

ARSL Supporters Alliance: Welcome EBSCO & NoveList!

Helping Libraries Do More, With More

We are thrilled to welcome EBSCO and NoveList to the ARSL Supporters Alliance as Champion Members! These two organizations have made a meaningful commitment to support our mission to build strong communities through advocacy, professional development, and elevating the impact of rural and small libraries.

With the generous donations of EBSCO, NoveList, and organizations like them ARSL will be able to continue offering the highest quality professional development content, advocacy tools, and networking opportunities tailor-made for small and rural libraries.

Professional Networking & Affinity Groups

Volunteers needed!

The ARSL Membership Committee is seeking a few additional volunteers to help start our Professional Networking Groups this year! Building on the success of the Solo-ish Librarians Happy Hour pioneered by ARSL members Bree Drapa and Chelsea Price, the Membership Committee wants to provide dedicated time and space for ARSL members to connect with others in their area of professional focus (youth services, administration, cataloging, etc.) or who exist at similar intersections of identity within the librarianship community.

We currently need leaders for the following networking groups:

- · Circulation Services
- BIPOC Librarians
- LGBTQ+ Librarians

Have an idea for an affinity group not listed on the volunteer form? Suggestions are welcome if you're willing to lead them! All networking groups will be held in ARSL Zoom rooms on a standing monthly schedule. Meetings will be drop-in style, with no obligation to stay the full hour. Networking groups (with the exception of the existing Solo-ish Librarians HH) are open to ARSL members only.

Color Health & ARSL: Ensuring Access to COVID Testing

Video

This video highlights how you can set up your site in a small or large footprint, and addresses some additional FAQs from our site partners.

As a reminder, Color has partnered with the CDC to support free COVID-19 lab testing for underresourced communities across the nation. We are partnering with hundreds of libraries and other community locations to increase access to this critical healthcare service.

If you haven't already, sign up to participate in Color Health's Community Testing Program, in partnership with the CDC and ARSL. Testing is free for you and for patrons – and you'll get a free year of ARSL membership plus $7.50 for every test administered at your library. There is no cost to you to operate this program.

If you'd like to participate, you can sign up by using this form – or search bit.ly/colorsite12 in your browser.

To learn more, join an upcoming informational webinar weekly on Wednesdays at 10am PT / 1pm ET.

Libraries like yours are central to your community. Let us help you provide the services and care your community deserves, we look forward to it!

Please let patrons know when they're asking about our eBook and audiobooks. Most started with Overdrive. Libby is pretty similar, but it's a good idea to download the app and try it yourself so it's easier to explain to patrons.

I always bring my phone out and show them. 🙂

Dear Rachel.

We are writing to share an update on the timeline for sunsetting the OverDrive app and transitioning remaining users to Libby. Please read on for an overview of the app sunset timeline and resources to help your library prepare.

OverDrive app sunset timeline and user messaging

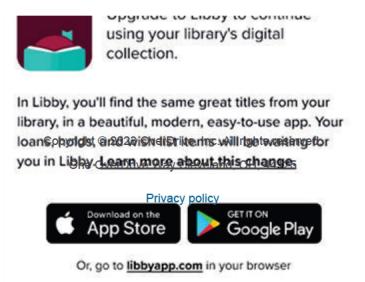

The OverDrive app for iOS, Android, and Windows 8/10 will be sunset on May 1, 2023.

Beginning March 21, the following in-app message will share this timeline with users, including a final reminder to switch to Libby:

Beginning May 1, users who try to access your library's collection in the app will see the following message, informing them they need to upgrade to Libby:

This email was sent from outside the organization.

OverDrive app sunset resources

Use the following resources to help your library and users through this transition:

For library staff:

- OverDrive app sunset overview and FAQs: Bookmark this Resource Center page for helpful FAQs, a preparation checklist, and staff training materials.
- Transition to Libby marketing kit: Use this marketing kit to help get the word out to your staff and community.

For users:

A note from Marcus Brotherton and Tosca Lee:

We would be thrilled to join your library for a virtual event to talk about our upcoming WWII novel, The Long March Home, and share with your patrons some of the real history and true stories that inspired the book and the behind the scenes process of writing this book and bringing it to life. As you can imagine, we have always found our second home in libraries, and they remain one of our favorite places to connect with readers and talk all things books!

Other topics we are happy to talk about:

- Our writing journeys to becoming published New York Times bestselling authors how we started, memorable moments along the way, and what we're each writing next
- · A typical writing day and what it's really like writing full-time
- What it's like partnering on a book with two authors (how do authors do that?)
- How we research for our books
- Audience Q&A
- · Book club discussion

Bonus: If you are receiving this offer ahead of the book's May 2 release, please be sure to check out the special preorder offer at www.thelongmarchhomebook.com.

Request to host Marcus and Tosca at your library to forget his high school sweetheart, Claire.

Life in the Philippines seems like paradise—until the morning of December 8, 1941, when news comes from Manila: Imperial Japan has bombed Pearl Harbor. Within hours, the teenage friends are plunged into war as enemy warplanes attack Luzon, beginning a battle for control of the Pacific Theater that will culminate with a last stand on the Bataan Peninsula and end with the largest surrender of American troops in history.

What follows will become known as one of the worst atrocities in modern warfare: the Bataan Death March. With no hope of rescue, the three friends vow to make it back home together. But the ordeal is only the beginning of their nearly four-year fight to survive.

Inspired by true stories, The Long March Home is a gripping coming-of-age tale of friendship, sacrifice, and the power of unrelenting hope.

I would then recommend waiting on cataloging the newly donated cake pans until we work on creating individual records for the collection. I would prefer to not have anyone cataloging the cake pans twice. There isn't a rush on patrons wanting them so we could wait until April to redo the records for the entire collection.

Thanks, Lyndsey

Hi everyone,

Some cake pans were donated to the library yesterday. Therefore, I need to know what needs to be done with them.

There has been previous discussion about this collection in the catalog. Are we still wanting to redo the cake pan record so that the cake pans will have their own individual records or am I just adding these new cake pans to the already existing cake pan record? Please let us know what the plan is so we can get these cake pans circulating.

Thanks, Lyndsey

Subject: Solar Science Programming Workshop recap/debrief

Good morning, everyone!

I attended the Solar Science Programming Workshop at the yesterday. It was a really great program, and I came away with a lot of ideas and resources. Yesterday's workshop was led by and of the Spa e S ien e In titute, Io ated in Boulder, Colorado

Some takeaways:

- On October 14, 2023, we will be able to see a partial annular eclipse here in Saline County E lip e gla e will be needed for the entire event in e the uninot completely eclipsed during an annular eclipse.
- 2. We are eligible for FREE eclipse glasses through the STAR Library Education Networks SEAL (Solar Eclipse Activities for Libraries) initiative. They have a goal of di tributing 5 million free e lip e gla e to librarie throughout the U.S. I want to take advantage of this opportunity, so I have already reached out to Patty about writing a brief letter agreeing

- a to utilize the e lip e gla e for edu ational program
- b. not to sell the glasses we receive
- c. to complete a post event survey
- d. to participate in relevant trainings and/or online community activities
- 3 Some link you may want to he kout
  - a. http://www.scigames.org/eclipse/
  - b. https://www.starnetlibraries.org/about/our-projects/solar-eclipse-activities-libraries-seal/

http://www.tarnetlibrarie.org/2020/wp.ontent/upload/2023/03/kitlist.pdf

- d. https://clearinghouse.starnetlibraries.org
- also attended yesterday's workshop and shared that will be closed to the public during the total eclipse we will see in Arkansas on April 8, 2024. The path of totality will be a 117-mile-wide swath from the outhwe t orner of the tate to the northeat orner The 2024 Total E lip e will be a once-in-a-lifetime event for millions of people -- the next total eclipse visible in the North American hemisphere will not occur until 2045, and not everyone possesses the means and opportunity to travel long distances to fully experien e a total e lip e I think SCL hould on ider following lead and close--if not for the entire day like the Bryant and Benton school districts have decided to do, then at least for the afternoon on the day of the total eclipse so that SCL employees can also experience this amazing and rare event. (Asking for a friend okay, fine, it' me I'm the friend LOL)
- 5. Yesterday's presenters strongly recommended passing eclipse glasses out ONLY at eclipse related programs, along with eye safety information for safe viewing of any eclipse. They stressed the importance of NOT distributing eclipse glasses from the ir ulation de k Their rea oning wa two fold
  - a. The glasses can easily be damaged if distributed on demand from the circ desk
  - b. During the total eclipse of 2017, tens of thousands of non-library users inundated librarie giving out e lip e gla e, reating a number of i ue for library staff around the country, but particularly in the path of totality, and ultimately hindering the libraries' ability to get eclipse glasses into the hands of actual library patrons
- 6 I have 2 e lip e pre entation heduled for thi year Thur day, April 6, 2023, at 6 p.m. and Saturday, July 8, 2023, at 10 a.m. Both are geared towards adult audiences and will be facilitated by volunteers from the Central Arkansas Astronomical Society (CAAS). I have other eclipse-related/eclipse-themed program in mind; they jut need to per olate for a bit

Side note: Yesterday's presenters shared a story about another library's unsuccessful efforts to entice Spanish speakers in their area into the library. When they dug a little deeper to find out why they had been unsuccessful getting that demographic into the library, they discovered that Mexico does not have a public library system. Libraries exi t, but they are paid member hip only like in the bad ol' day here in the State I don't know if this information is fully accurate or helpful, but I thought I'd pass it along since we have also been unsuccessful in our efforts to get our Spanish speaking community into our library.

Alan: Did I leave anything important out? If I did, please chime in!

I am so grateful I had this opportunity. Thanks so much!

Clear skies and wide eyes!

Hi Rachel.

This isn't my favorite part of my job, but I'm hoping you'll extend a little grace and tell me the right person at Saline County Library to speak to regarding security cameras, access control, and alarms -- my director wants to give Saline County Library a couple of our cameras to trial for a month; we would pay for shipping both ways.

Customers ranging from Equinox to the City of Las Vegas love Verkada because it:

- Is easy to install, use and is scalable to multiple locations (No clunky NVR/DVR needed).
- · Provides advanced AI and analytics to alert you when a person or vehicle of interest is on premises.
- Is cost effective with a 10-year warranty, complimentary 24/7 support, and automatic firmware/feature updates.

Do you know who would be the best contact at Saline County Library to speak to?

Best regards,

How to get people to follow your rules

Ryan Dowd <ryan@homelesslibrary.com>

Thu 3/9/2023 10:34 AM

To: Rebecca Kidder <rebeccak@salinecountylibrary.org>

Most organizations use "punishment-driven enforcement."

The idea is that people follow the rules simply to avoid punishment.

For example, if I drive my car 60 mph through my neighborhood, I get a $300 speeding ticket. I don't want to pay $300 so I don't drive 60 mph through my neighborhood.

If you didn't get to that part in the webinar, it starts ~30:00.

The problem with punishment-driven enforcement is that it doesn't work well on individuals who have suffered trauma or are dealing with other issues (mental illness, addiction, etc.).

If you serve these vulnerable people on a regular basis, you probably already know that.

The good news?

There are small things you can do to get people to follow your rules so that punishment isn't your go-to tool.

It all has to do with brain chemistry.

If you haven't gotten to that part of the webinar, make it a priority. It's ~34:00.

I promise, these 5 simple things will change not only how you interact with your customers experiencing homelessness but everyone else as well.

The result? More rule following, less punishment, and a calmer workplace.

Peace.

Ryan

Hosting Virtual Author Talk/Book Event/Present Program (LA/MS/AL/AR)

Matthew Raidbard <mraidbard@gmail.com>

Thu 3/9/2023 11:12 AM

To: Matthew Raidbard <mraidbard@gmail.com>;raidbardleadership@gmail.com <raidbardleadership@gmail.com> Good afternoon,

I hope you are doing well and that you are having a great week! I am a first-time author with a new book called, "Lead Like A Pro: Effective Leadership Styles For Athletic Coaches" (available through Ingram, Baker & Taylor, and American Wholesale Book Company). The book was written to provide coaches, at all levels of sports, with the tools to be more intentional and effective leaders for their athletes and teams.

I have been a men's college basketball coach and senior level college athletics administrator for the past 16 years. I also have a Doctorate in Educational Leadership, and I would love the opportunity to host a virtual program for your library, where I discuss the importance of coaches viewing themselves as leaders and teach them about leadership practice.

Many of the libraries I have presented for have partnered with their local parks & rec departments, youth sports organizations, and schools to promote the event to their coaches. I think this topic is particularly important for youth sport coaches who are often volunteers or parents and may not have much coach-related leadership experience.

My program is free of charge (an honorarium is greatly appreciated), and if this is something you would be interested in I would love the opportunity to discuss it with the person or team in charge of programming these types of events.

Best,
Matthew Raidbard

BiblioCon 2023

Hi Rebecca!

The 2023 Call for Presentations is Now Open

We want to hear about your successes, learnings, and ideas.

This year's theme is:

Driving and Measuring Community Impact

There are many ways libraries can positively impact the communities they serve. The foundation of that impact relies on making strong connections and building the best relationships possible with community members. While this is an ideal approach, library staff have a lot of responsibilities on their plates, and what seems like a dwindling amount of time to reach all their goals, so it's critical that they lean on the right tech tools and methodologies to be effective.

Presentation Topics and Suggestions

 Diversity, equity, and inclusion best practices, success stories, and tips and tricks that help deepen patron engagement at public libraries.

- 2. Web compliant UX design and accessibility guidelines that make public libraries accessible to audiences of all abilities.
- 3. Tools, tips, and tricks for implementing and leveraging BiblioCommons products. Content can be about readers' advisory for all ages, community engagement, content strategy success, Page Builder Tips and Tricks, Google Analytics, or other ideas related to creating and managing exceptional online public library experiences.

All proposals must be submitted by April 11th, 2023.

Prioritize ESG policies during budget planning

Government agencies are adopting environmental, social, and governance (ESG) policies at a rapid pace. Federal government entities in the U.S. are required to reserve at least 23% of their annual spend for underrepresented and small businesses, while many states have similar stipulations for their funding.

This means government purchasers are uniquely positioned to positively impact their agency's ESG goals and we are here to help. Amazon Business now offers thousands of products sold by small businesses that you have access to.

Any Saline County Library cardholder may request that an item in the library's collections be reviewed to ensure it complies with the Collection Development Policy. A title will be reviewed only once within a five year period unless the content has undergone major revisions.

The procedure for reconsideration of material is as follows:

The customer must complete the Saline County Library Citizen's Request for Reconsideration of Material form and submit it to any public service desk

The customer seeking reconsideration must read, view, or listen to the entirety of the work before requesting reconsideration of library material.

The Systems Administrator that oversees the Materials Selection team will communicate the Library's receipt of the customer's Request for Reconsideration within 5 business days and will advise that a written recommendation will be mailed within 4 weeks.

The Systems Administrator and Materials Selection librarians will review the material in question and research the request. The Systems Administrator will present a recommendation to the Library Director, Library Manager, and Branch Manager

The Systems Administrator will contact the customer to discuss the customer's request and the Library's decision regarding the material. The Library's decision will be mailed within 4 weeks of the original request.

If the customer is not satisfied with the Library's decision, the customer may file a written notice of appeal within 4 weeks to the Library Director. The materials will be reviewed by a Materials Review Committee consisting of the Library Director, the Systems Administrator, and two members of the Library Board of Trustees.

Sure. Or, the more I think about it, the more I like two weeks, but I don't want to rush our side of the process. However, I think it's fair to say four weeks to come to a decision and then only two weeks to appeal it since they will have already read/listened/watched and will know whether or not they want to appeal (more than likely).

It also says, "before a person can file a challenge, the person shall request a meeting with the librarian of the county or municipal library." However, it says that before the meeting occurs, the challenger must be given the written policy adopted by the library board and the form for reconsideration.

We're looking at both the form and the procedure after submission (and I didn't just volunteer myself, that was actually taken from another library's procedures).

Here's the unformatted first draft.

Reconsideration of Materials

Anyone is free to personally reject materials of which he or she does not approve; however, the choice of library materials for personal use is an individual matter. No one has the right to exercise censorship to restrict the freedom of use and or access of others. Any request for reconsideration of an item in the collection must follow the Library's procedure.

Any Saline County Library cardholder may request that an item in the library's collections be reviewed to ensure it complies with the Collection Development Policy. A title will be reviewed only once within a five year period unless the content has undergone major revisions.

The procedure for reconsideration of material is as follows:

The customer must complete the Saline County Library Request for Reconsideration of Material form and submit it to any public service desk

The customer seeking reconsideration must read, view, or listen to the entirety of the work before requesting reconsideration of library material.

The Systems Administrator that oversees the Materials Selection team will communicate the Library's receipt of the customer's Request for Reconsideration within 5 business days and will advise that a written recommendation will be mailed within 4 weeks.

The Systems Administrator and Materials Selection librarians will review the material in question and research the request. The Systems Administrator will present a recommendation to the Library Director, Library Manager, and Branch Manager.

The Systems Administrator will contact the customer to discuss the customer's request and the Library's decision regarding the material. The Library's decision will be mailed within 4 weeks of the original request.

If the customer is not satisfied with the Library's decision, the customer may file a written notice of appeal within 4 weeks to the Library Director. The materials will be reviewed by a Materials Review Committee consisting of the Library Director, the Systems Administrator, and two members of the Library Board of Trustees.

Library Journal

"Curtice's (Native: Identity, Belonging, and Rediscovering God) mantra of "I am a human being. I am always arriving," underlies a unique vision of resistance, one that is affirming, intensely personal, wrapped in community and history, and consistently developing. Curtice describes the intersectional realities of her life as an enrolled citizen of the Potawatomi Nation who grew up in an evangelical Christian environment. The book guides the reader through four reflective "realms of resistance"—personal, communal, ancestral, and integral—with chapters that flesh out what opposition to oppressive societal pressures can be. Curtice's story of her own arriving, of affirming and integrating larger aspects of her identity than she was originally given categories for, shows how the resistance to colonizing, racist, marginalizing narratives through bodies, words, and actions can be a journey toward spiritual wholeness.

VERDICT: A work of both spiritual direction and challenge toward social engagement, with welcoming, lambent prose. Curtice is a fresh and intelligent voice in the genre."

Booklist

"Curtice shares an expansive, generous vision for how to find meaning and make a place for ourselves in an often exhausting and hostile world. The author, a citizen of the Potawatomi Nation, breaks the practice of resistance into four overlapping, mutually sustaining realms: the personal realm of internal reflection and self-care; the communal realm that honors our connections with and responsibilities toward one another; the ancestral realm, which helps us to see both our origins and our futures; and, at the center of them all, the integral realm, bringing together the work of the other three. Though deeply informed by both Christianity and Indigenous spiritual practices, the work Curtice describes is not confined to any one faith (or lack of faith). Rather, it teaches us to hold space for the divine in ourselves, our communities, and our shared history. If we want to change the world, we must have faith in ourselves, close bonds with the people in the fight with us, and a clear understanding of where we have come from and where we wish to go."

Subject: Phone Scripts and Manager Meeting Notes

In the managers meeting, we talked about creating phone scripts for staff when they get calls about book challenges and other difficult or uncomfortable questions. I can make these scripts but would like to ask for help coming up with those questions. Please respond with any questions you are aware we already receive or anticipate we may receive that would be good to have something prepared for our team to say. Also, if you think we get a guestion that needs to be forwarded to a manager, please include that and I will put on there: please forward this call to a manager. Or I can have people listed that would be good for those specific questions.

Other things I am working on that was brought up from the meeting (since we didn't take notes LOL) handouts for staff overviewing the reconsideration process parents guide for children's cards article on parent freedom/rights (not sure how this will be since SB81 has now passed) bookmarks for the public on linking accounts

Updates from my department:

March programs are doing great! Registrations are looking full or close to full

Tech Connect for the Digital Literacy Grant ends in March. After that we will be doing Tech Connect classes as a Book A Librarian 1:1 session. Mason and Bella will also have classes at the Bryant Senior Center and HSV once a month. (Jordan S is helping with HSV)

Julie and I will meet with Stirling tomorrow to discuss building new Gann Musuem website.

Julie, Cody, and I met to discuss the Gann 130th celebration. That will be June 3rd. Working on details but its going to be fun and we will have fundraising opportunities. These is "Welcome Home" Heather is now taking over business card orders and name tag orders.

I am working on a pantry sponsorship opportunity to try to get our pantry stocked year round.

CED Meeting has been moved to next week at 9AM in the Board Room.

National Library Week is last week of April and we need ideas ASAP! I will send out an all staff email very soon for that.

Emotional Intelligence: Understanding Your and Others' Emotions for Self-Awareness, Empathy, and Guidance

March 16, 2023; 2:00-3:00PM Eastern

Emotional intelligence (EI) is the ability to be aware of, handle, and express your emotions as well as be empathetic and fair in relationships, with a deeper understanding of others' emotions. One research study has suggested less than 40% of the population is emotionally intelligent. Being emotionally intelligent effects every facet of life, from success in your job to personal relationships. EI, not IQ, is often the factor that sets you apart in your job and makes you more successful. Learn to apply EI holistically and practically.

From this webinar, you will:

- Define emotional intelligence and the skills needed for enhancement.
- Identify myths such as controlling vs. regulating your emotions, and how emotions impact your decisions and reactions.
- Discover ways to be more self-aware, manage yourself and relationships, empathize, motivate, and cope with challenges.
- Practically apply emotional intelligence in your work and life.

Body language tool - what to do with your hands

Ryan Dowd <ryan@homelesslibrary.com>

Mon 3/13/2023 10:38 AM

To: Rebecca Kidder <rebeccak@salinecountylibrary.org>

Your body language is SUPER important when you talk to troubled customers.

I explain why in the 3.5-hour Core Training Course but let's just say it's so important that I have a whole 1-hour supplemental training called Advanced Body Language.

In the mini training a few weeks ago we looked at how you should stand (remember, not facing the person but instead turn your body 15°).

Now we'll take a look at your hands. Here are four things to avoid:

- Arms crossed this says "I'm judging you."
- Hands on hips this says "I don't approve of you."
- Pointing at the person this says "I don't like you."
- Hands balled up in fists this says "I'm going to punch you."

Instead you should stand with your hands in your pockets or behind your back. This sends a message of calmness and casualness. Both say "I'm comfortable being around you."

Many experts recommend keeping your hands to your sides (instead of putting them in your pockets or behind your back) because the latter can make someone with paranoia nervous, but I have never personally experienced this.

The only time you don't want to follow this advice is if you think you might get punched.

When I think I might get punched, I do what I call the "Praying Ninja." I put my palms together in front of my face (like I'm praying) and "talk with my hands." It's effective because it allows me to keep my hands in front of my face to protect it, but it doesn't look like I'm trying to protect myself.

I hope this helps!

Peace,

Ryan

P.S. If you'd like to see all our trainings, we offer a free 2-week trial (one person per organization). Just REPLY to this email and let us know you're interested (please include your name and organization in your response).

Googley Eyed: Is Google the Best Way to Find Open Access Resources?

Presented by: Sirsidvnix and Library Journal

Event Date and Time: Thursday, March 23, 2023 | 11:00 AM ET / 8:00 AM PT

In 2022, 59% of all scholarly articles were published with an Open Access (OA) license. While these articles are available on the open web, is Google (or Google Scholar) the best way for end users to find these resources? Even though Google is free and ubiquitous, should libraries concede this space to a commercial resource?

This webinar will compare Google searching for OA with CloudSource OA, which aggregates the global body of OA and open educational resources (OER) and delivers a simple yet powerful Discovery experience.

Our Panelists from existing CloudSource customers will discuss their experiences with offering users a better way to discover this vast and rapidly expanding trove of open content.

Subject: Adult Nonfiction Books and Movie Packs

Would it be possible to shelve the adult nonfiction books in alphabetical order by the main heading? We do that for the subheadings, and it's helpful after finding the main heading. If the main headings were in alphabetical order too, it would help patrons and staff locate the genre they are looking for quicker.

Also, can we do away with movie packs now that our doors are open, and we are flourishing again? We haven't received a request for them in a good while at Bryant.

Myth: Homeless people are just like you and me

Subject: Myth: Homeless people are just like you and me

There are 2 myths that are simply not true.

Myth 1: Homeless People are Nothing Like You and Me

I once took an ignorant politician through our shelter at 10:00 p.m. It was a really crowded night and we had 40-50 people sleeping in our dining room. His eyes were huge, never having really seen poverty up close. He kept saying, "Those people don't look homeless!"

He had come to believe that homeless people are almost a different race of human beings. They were individuals "wholly other" than us. That's simply not true.

Try this: next time you see some ragged soul with a cardboard sign panhandling on the side of the road, remember:

- He has (or had) parents that loved him, just like you.
- He played with toys when he was a child, just like you.
- He has had crushes on people and (hopefully) been in love, just like you.
- He has pains and hopes and dreams and disappointments, just like you.

Thinking that homeless people are totally different than you is wrong and dangerous.

Myth 2: Homeless People are Just Like You and Me

Thinking that homeless people are exactly like you is also wrong and dangerous. A homeless person's life and experience are very different from yours.

Have you ever

- Been evicted or foreclosed on?
- Eaten out of a dumpster?
- Gone longer than 48 hours without eating?
- Been forced to panhandle to survive?
- Slept outside in the winter without a tent or sleeping bag?
- Been mugged?
- Been arrested?
- Been sexually assaulted?
- Gone more than a week without access to a shower?
- Had to go to the bathroom (no. 2) outside in a city?

- Worn the same clothes for more than two weeks straight?
- Grown up poor?
- Been ticketed for jaywalking?
- Had something thrown at you out of a moving car?
- Slept in a bed with bedbugs?
- Lost all hope?

Many of you will be able to answer "yes" to some of these (I have experienced three of them). Unless you've been homeless, though, you probably have not experienced most of these things.

Someone with these very different experiences looks at the world differently than you do.

It's helpful to understand and appreciate the very real ways that a person experiencing homelessness is different from you. In fact, understanding those differences is at the root of empathy.

Peace,

Ryan

Hello Mockingbird libraries,

Our weekly Mockingbird office hours today at 10 am are cancelled. Please reach out if you need a question answered today and I'll make sure it gets answered.

Here's a question from a library this week: Has anyone given patrons access to Mockingbird for them to create their own requests yet? Please reply directly to me if you have so I can ask a couple of follow up questions.

Thank you!

3 Essential Dynamic Shelving Tips!

Dynamic Shelving is an organization philosophy that encourages librarians to rethink their collections and create accessible, browsable, and independently navigable library experiences. The ultimate goal of Dynamic Shelving is to think about library organization from a user-centered perspective and to embrace a bit of a marketing mindset. It's a way to better display your library's resources, demystify the library, and inspire and delight your users!

Find Your Own Way

Many librarians find themselves with restricted flexibility when designing their spaces. Ideally, all libraries would feel approachable and easy to navigate, but small budgets, inflexible or outdated layouts, and limited time often lead to wish lists that feel unattainable. The good news is that even when a major overhaul isn't possible, smaller changes can make a big impact.

A LibraryWorks presentation ...

No Buy-In or Budget for Marketing at your Library?

Here Are 20 Things You Can Do to Change That!

March 23, 2023; 2:00-3:00PM Eastern

Many libraries have no budget dedicated to marketing, and that's not healthy for our field. Our competitors (Amazon, streaming services, local-event organizers, entertainment complexes) advertise a lot, which keeps them top-of-mind for potential users. Libraries, on the other hand ...

So if your administrators won't allocate a respectable amount of money to promote your products and services, how can you convince them to change their minds? After discussing this challenge with countless colleagues, marketing-communications maven Kathy Dempsey has assembled a list of 20 actions you can take to get your bosses' buy-in and financial support for marketing and promotion. Register to learn:

- What you & your boss need to understand about each other's positions
- How to explain that "marketing" probably isn't what they think it is
- What sort of data is useful to track and present to make your case
- Words and phrases that can increase your chances of success
- How LinkedIn and networking can help

This information can help you reach the right mindset for these conversations and will help you prepare the data and the words necessary to build the buy-in to move your initiative forward. Level:Intermediate.

Presenter: Kathy Dempsey wrote the popular howto book The Accidental Library Marketer and founded her own marketing consultancy, Libraries Are Essential. Her work is dedicated to helping librarians and information professionals promote their value and expertise in order to gain respect and funding. Kathy has been the Editor of Marketing Library Services newsletter for 29 years, and was formerly Editor-in-Chief of Computers in Libraries magazine. She's Founding Chair of the Library Marketing and Communications Conference. This writer, editor, and marketing maven has been giving presentations across the U.S. and Canada for 27+ years, always sprinkling them with humor to make marketing concepts more interesting and accessible.

Library Outreach for Underserved Children and

With Jess Snow. A bundle of two 4-week eCourses.

Begins Monday, March 6, 2023

Over the past several years, we've had to question notions about outreach services that many of us accepted on face value for years. Outreach is for everyone, and when it comes to young people, overlooked and marginalized populations can be particularly challenging to identify and reach.

In this two-course bundle, outreach expert and author Jessica Snow will provide a guide to serving both underserved teens and children. Over the course of eight weeks, you'll learn strategies for identifying underserved youth in your community and how to ensure that your outreach services and community partnerships help them.

Registration for this bundle includes a physical and digital copy of Outreach Services for Teens: A Starter Guide, which will be used as the main text for the first course.

You can purchase registration for these eCourses individually or as a bundle.

Registration for individual courses is also available!

Outreach Services for Underserved Teens

Learn how to identify and create partnerships with organizations that aid underserved teens, how to create a core collection of materials you may use in your outreach services, and how to identify goals and outcomes for your outreach services.

Outreach Services for Underserved Children

In this eCourse, Jessica Snow will guide you through various challenges to outreach services for children and help you use your resources to build outreach that serves all children in your community.

Brain Chemistry

Ryan Dowd <ryan@homelesslibrary.com>

Tue 3/14/2023 11:22 AM

To: Rebecca Kidder <rebeccak@salinecountylibrary.org>

For those of you who were hesitant to open this email because the subject line was "Brain Chemistry," I completely understand. However, everything I teach is based on one word: EMPATHY.

The key to empathy and dealing with individuals experiencing homelessness, drug addition, mental illness, etc., is understanding how our brains work. For that understanding, we need to look at two "neurochemicals" (brain chemicals): Cortisol and Dopamine.

Cortisol

- Cortisol increases aggression.
- Cortisol is released in the brain by stressful experiences.

Dopamine

- Dopamine reduces aggression.
- Dopamine is released in the brain when someone treats you like a "social equal."

What this means for you

If you are rude to a homeless individual:

- The person's brain will release cortisol.
- The cortisol will increase the person's aggression level towards you.

If you treat a homeless individual like your equal:

- The person's brain will release dopamine.
- The dopamine will lower the person's aggression level towards you.

So... be nice!

It decreases aggression (and it's the right thing to do!).

Peace,

Ryan

Fran and I have to get the magazine spread done so here is what we have come up with from all the lovely and fantastic input from you guys! (Thank you so much!!!) We can also do a big drawing for the whole week and you get entries for completing the tasks and extra entries for putting it on social and tagging us. Also, we found this library that had hearts patrons could pick up on Monday and turn in to have them put on the wall (like Chili's does with the St. Jude peppers) and we love it! We can cut out "books" and have a "book-note" station on the NLW display area.

Monday- Music Monday: Dress up like musician. Activity: Coffee bar with music (what times do we want this? All day? We are thinking set up in a certain area like the photo booth area in Benton and maybe the front table for Bryant?)

Tuesday- Travel Tuesday: Dress up like you are going on a trip! Anywhere! Activity: Travel through the library to see if you can complete our scavenger hunt. Finish the tasks and turn in your completed form to the front desk to earn a book buck so your travels and adventures never stop!

Wednesday- Who's Who Wednesday: See if you can trick your friends and dress up like someone else for the day! Activity: Our day has gone wacky and we need help to unscramble it! Help us solve the puzzles and riddles at both locations.

Thursday: Throwback Thursday: Take it back to whatever decade you chose! 80s, 70s, Renisance? Bring it on! Activity: Stop by to see if you can answer all questions right for our Trivia Through the Decades! Turn in completed forms to the front desk. You can also play a different round on Facebook with us at 7:30 PM. Winner of our Facebook trivia will receive a special prize.

Friday- Fictional Friday: Dress up like your favorite fictional character. Activity: Share a picture of you dressed up on our social media channels and tag us or come to the library to take a photo on our NLW photo booth area.

Saturday- Shoutout Saturday: We are super excited and thankful for all our wonder patrons so come to the library for a special treat and share your favorite library memories with us on our social media. We will also share all the wonderful book-notes we have gotten throughout the week.

Please let us know your thoughts ASAP so we can get this in the magazine. We need to have draft sent to proofreaders tomorrow and final product sent to printer by Friday.

Thank you,

Kari Lapp

I love the one where they get a prize to solve the most riddles! How cute! We could even have different riddles at both locations.

I also like the coffee kickoff. I know the Christmas one can be busy, but patrons absolutely love it!

I like the free 3D print, too! Not sure if Ashlyn and Becca would have enough time with requests coming in, but it would be a great promo!

Subject: National Library Week

We need to decide the days for National Library Week ASAP! Some people have given me some suggestions for the dress ups and here is what I have:

National Library Week Ideas:

- Fictional character day
- Favorite sports team
- SCL Spirit Day wear a library shirt, hat, sunglasses, etc./library merch
- TV Show Thursday
- Decade/Throwback Thursday
- Hero vs. Villain/superhero

- Workout Wednesday
- Music Monday dress as your favorite musician or musical group
- -Make-it Monday use book pages to make something you can wear. We can have simple bobby pin or bracelets with cut-out shapes on them.
- -Travel Tuesday- dress like you are going on a great adventure (safari, scuba diving, surfing, etc.)

Wacky Wednesday

- -Throw Back Thursday
- -Fictional Friday
- -Favorite Character Friday

I would like to send our days to the school media specialists and principals and encourage them to get their school involved. Wendy, I need that list for Star Readers anyways. Can you please send me the most updated version you have? I know it changes every year.

Other special activities I would like to do is ask Twisted Fries to come out on one of the days. Maybe Fry-day! I want to do a food drive for the pantry and set a goal with a thermometer or something we track daily. I want to create a fun coloring sheet that we can hang on the window/walls like they do at restaurants. (This is also an easy and cheap fundraiser idea, too!)

What are your thoughts/ideas?

Dear Rebecca,

We are very excited to announce the new science fiction novel, available today, Future's Dark Past: A Novel by J.L. Yarrow.

Keep reading to learn what Future's Dark Past is all about.

The catastrophic Purge War at the end of the twenty-first century destroys planet Earth, jeopardizing the future for the remnants of humanity. Horrific repercussions roll across the ages until, generations later, a scientific group called the Time Forward Project harnesses a deep-space wormhole in which they can travel through time. They find the portal unstable and shrinking, but they have little choice but to take desperate, drastic measures and journey back to prevent the war.

Kristen Winters is an angry, determined young woman who is fed up with the miserable circumstances that life doles out. In a bold move, she escapes and undergoes the horrific genetic modification to become a warrior-like time agent. As the protege of the tough, cantankerous Richard Kants, her potential threatens to overtake his prowess. Kants has his own motives for changing the past, and he orchestrates his own scheme on the side to improve the odds. Their uneasy partnership dissipates when he is assassinated by a rival group from the future called the Keplers, who thwart their missions at every turn.

With his death, Kristen mysteriously finds herself newly partnered with a bewildered man from the early twenty-first century. Hunter Coburn is a hot shot AI scientist who works for the FBI. He has pending wedding plans, a high-paying job he loves, and is a geek with an I-Want-It-AII attitude, but suddenly must make sense of the glimpses of the future he sees in freakish jumps.

A provocative, imaginative, and endlessly compelling work of science fiction, Future's Dark Past signals the arrival of a distinctive new voice and a story that will simultaneously haunt and electrify you.

Block 7th

What are others saying about Future's Dark Past?

"A troubled band of time travelers try to save Earth from its deadliest enemy - humanity.

Fascinating characters with conflicting personal agendas, a genuinely inventive plot, and constantly accelerating pace - FUTURE'S DARK PAST is a winner."-- Nancy Kress,

Multi-award winning and New York Times best selling author of OBSERVER

"A tense, action-packed post-apocalypse tale that will keep you up late and that you'll sneak into meetings, to keep reading on the sly." -- David Brin, New York Times bestselling author of EARTH and The Postman

"Will leave action-loving sci-fi fans hungry for more!" -- Avanti Centrae, multi-awardwinning author of the international bestselling VanOps thriller series

"The emotions read true to real life, the prose is crisp and the author's ability to create dramatic scenes shines through the story . . . a deftly plotted novel with a protagonist that stole my breath." — Divine Zape, Reader's Favorite

Future's Dark Past offers exciting action as its characters struggle to change the past, and in doing, change their future. John and Leanne do an excellent job of creating an immersive world from the beginning, with many characters who develop and grow with the story as it unfolds. The concluding arc of Future's Dark Past will surprise readers, with an unexpected antagonist. This intense ending leaves the characters with a complex and dangerous job ahead of them. Humanity's survival depends on it. Future's Dark Past by J.L. Yarrow won the Grand Prize in the internationally acclaimed CIBA Cygnus Book Awards for Science Fiction. --Chanticleer Book Reviews

A cerebral new time travelling thriller that's considerably more contemplative than the vast majority of genre releases, Future's Dark Past proves a stylish head trip. A read that teases the brain and touches the heart as its twists and turns keep multiplying whilst never losing sight of the need for narrative sustainability. A highly imaginative read that's engaging from start to finish, Future's Dark Past is as good as the genre gets and is sure to leave its readers chaffing at the bit for Book 2.

A five-star read it is unreservedly recommended! -- Book Viral Book Reviews

A provocative, imaginative, and endlessly compelling work of science fiction, Future's Dark Past signals the arrival of a distinctive new voice and a story that will simultaneously haunt and electrify you.

If you'd like to sample a bit of Future's Dark Past, you can do so here.

Thanks for reading.

Branch Job Duties 2023.pdf;

Good afternoon!

We've had a few position changes, so it was time to update our job duties. Here are the major differences:

- Ashleigh will be taking over bindery. (Anna will show you how to do this.) Ashleigh will be in charge of weeding the new items each month. Holley will be assisting with this.
- Holley will be over disc cleaning.
- Hannah will be in charge of weeding and adding to the free paperbacks, letting Rachel know if you need more, and color coding the new ones. (Rachel or I will show you!)
- Savannah will still be over the glass display case and displays.
- Everyone is required to help out recording newspapers and magazines as they come in.

Just a reminder about covering the desk vs. desk time. When covering the desk, if we're slow, you can shelf read, shelve DVDs, look for lists, complete job duties, etc. You aren't tied to the desk during this time, but you are responsible to keep an eye on it. Shelving DVDs and checking in in the work room are two easy things to do while keeping an eye on the desk. Also, if you're going to work on something else, let your circulation partner know and grab the cordless phone. The reason I put desk time on the schedule is just in case we are slammed busy throughout the week, you'll still have time to do other required job duties. However, we are usually slow in the mornings, making it super easy to get other things done while keeping an eye on the desk.

If you have any questions or need clarification, please let me know! 🙂

We really like these lockers: https://www.homedepot.com/p/3-Tier-Tall-Locker-Cabinetwith-Keys-Metal-Storage-Locker-17-in-D-x-15-in-W-x-71-in-H-in-Grey-White-DBDG202294GW/323430200

There is enough room to put them in the break room where the chair is. We'd have to take down the shelf, but we don't really use it anyway. The only bad thing is that we'd need 2 of these since we have 5 part-timers, leaving one empty.

Leigh thinks they ordered from Home Depot last time, which also makes me nervous, but everything else from there has been great!

Thoughts?

Hi Rebecca,

Rob and I spoke briefly about this on Friday (Apologies as he's been out sick.). We both believe it has to do with the user's phones/devices and the PaperCut profile being saved to them. I know on iPhone there is a profile saved under general settings>VPN. On Android there is a user profile section under settings where the PaperCut profile can be found and deleted. Once the profile is deleted they can go through the mobile setup as if they were a new user.

The Bryant Fire Department came by this morning to do their check. They found 2 things:

- The fire extinguisher in the Makerspace closet needs to be replaced. We'll let American Fire Protection Group know next time they are here.
- There can't be an extension cord in the storage/server room hanging from the ceiling. They said it needs to be hardwired in.

I'll pass along the report once they send it to me.

GOING BEYOND CAPTIONS: CREATING ACCESSIBLE INSTRUCTIONAL VIDEOS

Wed March 29 at 2:00 pm US Eastern, 11:00 am US

Many libraries offer instructional videos for use characteristics.

Unfortunately, research shows that oftentimes these videos are inaccessible to patrons with disabilities. For example, Clossen and Proces (2017) found that only 52% of the videos they examined were properly captioned, and many had additional accessibility problems.

In this webinar, Melissa Wong will help participants learn to create fully accessible instructional videos. The webinar will begin with a brief overview of disability that puts accessibility practices into context, then introduce design practices that support accessibility, including planning, narration, typography, and graphic design. Finally, the workshop will introduce standards and practices for captions, transcripts, and descriptive audio.

If you're interested but not able to attend the live webinar, go ahead and register. We'll send a recording to all registrants after the fact.

★ Booklist Starred Review

"New York City in the Roaring Twenties provides the glittering backdrop to Green's (Veiled in Smoke, 2020) captivating tale about art forgery and Egyptology. Dr. Lauren Westlake has made a name for herself as the assistant curator of Egyptian art at the Metropolitan Museum of Art at a time when few women have the means or education for such a career. As children, Lauren and Joe Caravello met at the Met and now, as a police detective, Joe seeks her out for assistance in connecting art forgery to a shooting at a speakeasy that landed his partner in jail. Meanwhile, Lauren's father is working on acquiring items for the new Egyptology museum he plans to open in Newport, Rhode Island. Lauren's relationship with her father has always been difficult, and she struggles with conflicting emotions when he offers her the opportunity that she longed for as a child, to go on an expedition with him in Egypt. Green presents the perfect combination of well-developed characters, sweet romance, a glimpse into history, and a fascinating, well-researched mystery. Fans of Elizabeth Camden and Elizabeth Peters will be delighted by the start of this new series."

The LibraryReads board selected SOME DESPERATE GLORY as the April Bonus Pick!

AND you selected Sally Hepworth (THE SOULMATE) for the Hall of Fame!!

IN THE #1 SPOT!!

IN THE LIVES OF PUPPETS

by TJ Klune

Swiss Family Robinson meets Wall-E in the woods in this new standalone fantasy from beloved New York Times and USA Today bestselling author TJ Klune.

"Readers who loved Klune's previous works will find plenty of the author's trademark charm, heart, and bittersweetness, while those looking for more hopeful robot stories, like A PSALM FOR THE WILD-BUILT by Becky Chambers, will find this interpretation of a robot-future different but just as compelling."

—Library Journal, Starred Review

Available from Tor Books on April 25.

The Scourge Between Stars by Ness Brown

THE SCOURGE BETWEEN STARS

by Ness Brown

A debut space horror adventure in the vein of Alien, in which a starship captain must keep her crew alive while an unknown intruder hunts them.

"Brown's debut novella is highly recommended for readers who like their science-fictional thrills to be both real and out of this world at the same time."

—Library Journal, Starred Review

Available from Tor Nightfire on April 4.

Some Desperate Glory by Emily Tesh

SOME DESPERATE GLORY

by Emily Tesh

A thrillingly-told queer space opera about the wreckage of war, the family you find, and who you must become when every choice is stripped from you, SOME DESPERATE GLORY is awardwinning author Emily Tesh's highly anticipated debut novel.

"Tesh asks us what humanity should stand for, questions what shape justice should take, and forces us to take a stark look at what Kyr has to give up in order to be better. Her growth is what powers this expansive story with an action-packed pace full of exciting battles and gut-wrenching twists."

-Booklist, Starred Review

Available from Tordotcom on April 11.

In the Hall of Fame!

The Soulmate by Sally Hepworth

THE SOULMATE

by Sally Hepworth

From New York Times bestselling author Sally Hepworth, comes a twisty new domestic suspense novel that proves nothing—and no one—is ever as it seems.

"Sympathetic characters combined with powerful themes of guilt, love, and loyalty will lead readers to consider the power of selfdelusion. Recommended for fans of Liane Moriarty and Fiona Barton."

-Booklist

Available from St. Martin's Press on April 4.

The Salt Grows Heavy by Cassandra Khaw

THE SALT GROWS HEAVY

by Cassandra Khaw

"Khaw's prose is rich and gorgeous, and the surprising tenderness at the story's heart is only magnified by the violence and gore that surround it. Both elements prove devastatingly effective in constructing a folklore-infused world that feels wholly unique for contemporary horror fiction. Expertly blending a gothic atmosphere with elements of splatterpunk, this brilliant novella is not to be missed. "

 Publishers Weekly, Starred Review

Witch King by Martha Wells

WITCH KING

by Martha Wells

"Hugo, Nebula, and Locus award winner Wells takes a break from her sci-fi Murderbot series to delve into a complex secondary world fantasy . . . Wells treats sexuality and gender (demons can move between male and female bodies) with a refreshing matter-of-factness and depicts the cultures of this world with an anthropologist's care. Fans will not be disappointed by Wells's return to fantasy."

—Publishers Weekly

NO TWO PERSONS

by Erica Bauermeister

"Bauermeister's moving linked collection revolves around a novel by a reclusive author . . . 'The Agent,' a satisfying closer, checks in on Alice's agent at the end of her own long career. There's plenty of charm to this thoughtful take on a book's impact on its readers. "

—Publishers Weekly

The Last Word by Katy Birchall

THE LAST WORD

by Katy Birchall

"This enemies-to-lovers romance from Birchall is the perfect office love story, and readers will fall for Harper and Ryan and their second-chance romance."

When opening the book drop door the right side is no longer attached on the inside and wants to come completely out. The left side of the door is still attached, it's keeping it from falling off.

We have locked it and put a sign on it to direct patrons to return their items at the front desk.

My monitor at my desk has the wrong day and time in the bottom right corner of the screen.

We haven't been in the habit of locking the Makerspace door, because we are in and out all day long. But, this week, something that belonged to Julie was taken from the Makerspace, so we decided to start locking it when we weren't in the room. This morning, I locked it with the button on the inside door handle when I exited (this was the first time locking it in my experience here) and now it won't unlock.

We have Makerspace open hours tomorrow at 2pm. If you don't have time to work on it before then, please let me know so we can post about canceling open hours as soon as possible.

When we activated the self checkouts their keypads are white and you can barely see the numbers displayed. Also, their screens use to only have a orange background but now they both have a library advertisement on them, is that supposed to be there? Lastly, on the screen of the childrens self check-out, the word county looks glitchy in between the words saline and library.

Thank you for getting the majority of the pads up and running again!

Hey Julie!

Now that our pads are working again in circulation, it seems like they have reverted back to checking in items multiple times if they are left on the pad. I remember they did this when we first got the system. Then at some point something on the back end was fixed so the pads would only pick up an item once. Could we get this fixes again?

Good morning and happy Friday,

Please remember that the deadline for getting events into Communico is April 5th. Keep in mind that April 5th falls on a Wednesday so be sure to plan ahead. If you need an extension for your events, please let me know asap. Last-minute additions often require redoing entire layouts and formatting of the magazine, so this deadline is firm to make sure the magazine is edited, finished, and sent out on time.

Here is the April 2023 content calendar! The color-coordinated schedule includes:

- Seed Library will be posted on the 1st and 15th of every month except in April national gardening day falls on Thursday, April 14th.
- Saturdays will be a resource highlight post and Sundays is our regular "This Week" post.
- #MakerspaceMonday is posted weekly for highlighting special events, hours, kits,.
- News stories and booklists are posted twice weekly. Please be aware of these due dates! (Y'all are doing great with this btw!)
- (R) indicates a reminder post. This is not the day of the event, but just a general promotion to remind people of recurring or previously promoted events.
- There is a lot of availability around the end of the month. If you need any promo for events happening in early May let me know ASAP and I will add to the calendar as necessary.

Key things:

- All posts are scheduled ahead of time and are automatically posted based on what is in the calendar. Please make sure your calendar events are proofed so that they are posted correctly.
- If you notice an error needs to be made after the 5th, please contact me directly so I can make edits to anything affected.
- If you need or want any specific instructions or captions for any posts, please let me know asap.
- If something needs extra (or less) promo, let me know so I can adjust the content calendar, if possible.

As always, I am happy to listen to your ideas and corrections! If there is anything I have overlooked or that you would like to change somehow, let me know asap and we can figure it out together! Thank you again!

All, I have set up a new support system that also has a new email address:

I will be phasing out the support@salinecountylibrary.org email address over the next few weeks (until everyone can get acclimated to the new address) and after that it will be disabled permanently.

With this new support system, when an email is sent to the new address, a ticket is automatically created. I can then assign it to the appropriate person in my department and track it so that, hopefully, it will make things a tad bit easier on all of us and fewer issues will fall through the cracks.

So, from now on, email all IT or Maintenance requests to the above email address. Any e-mails sent to support@salinecountylibrary.org over the next few weeks, I will create a ticket in the new system and you will receive response from the new system. Thanks for your patience and adaptability! Let me know if you have any questions.

Bless heart We've all been traumatized by the pandemic hasn't tried to call that I can see I think we have to remember the info from the homeless training:
Trauma changes the brain. It affects the prefrontal cortex where decision making, abstract thought and mood regulation takes place; the amygdala is the center for fight or flight and has no capacity for language. Trauma damages the prefrontal cortex and makes the amygdala hyperactive. When it is hyperactive it suppresses the prefrontal cortex. The consequences are that people misperceive threats and over-react; they have difficulty self-regulating emotions and they're impulsive.
I don't want you to feel like you have to stand there and take abuse from patrons—definitely stop their tirade politely. Remind them that they should treat staff politely just as staff treats them. They have to follow our rules.

If any of you listened to the discussion of SB81 on Wednesday, one of the representatives, Meeks, complained about how his book challenge was handled in Faulkner County. Here's the truth: https://arktimes.com/news/2023/03/17/heres-the-story-of-what-happened-when-rep-stephen-meekschallenged-a-sex-ed-book-at-the-faulkner-county-library

Here's the story of what happened when Rep. Stephen Meeks challenged a sex ed book at the Faulkner County Library

An Arkansas representative whose book challenges were denied argued that public libraries should be more heavily policed to censor explicit materials. A public library supporter took a deep dive on the story and came away with a far different conclusion.

The RFID pad is now working to check in items in the staff work room.

Adult computers were allowing patrons to print to Konica today. The printing connection seems to have a mind of it's own. If there are problems with printing to Konica from the adult computers in the future take a photo of what the screen is displaying or what it's not displaying. Then send a support ticket to the new email Rob has sent out along with the photo. Please tag Rebecca and I in these.

The RFID pad does not work when using In-House. You will have to scan the barcodes.

Hi!

What is the appropriate way that we should be shelving our nonfiction dvd's? As of right now, we have about thirty-ish with the genrefication call numbers, so we are just putting them in alpha order by heading at the beginning of the nonfic dvd section. Should we be shelving them like the nonfic books? (It came up this morning when a part-timer was confused about how and where to shelve them.)

Thank you! 😊

Creating Library Accounts

Leigh Espey < leighe@salinecountylibrary.org >

Mon 3/20/2023 8:18 AM

To: allstaff@salinecountylibrary.org <allstaff@salinecountylibrary.org>

Good morning!

I just wanted to send out a quick reminder about creating library accounts for children when they come in with their responsible adult. There are a few key pieces of information that need to be selected/entered correctly:

- make sure they are 5 years old
- make sure their profile name (also known as patron code) is set to SCL-JUV
  - This defaults to SCL-ADULT, so if you forget to change it before scanning the new library card, you can easily change it once the system pulls up the new card registration.
- Under the Demographics tab
  - make sure their notification preference is selected in User Cat2
    - text or email is better for the patron because it let's them know if it's a hold, overdue item, or reminder of due date. The phone message bascially just says, "hey, this is the library," and then they have to call us to figure out why they received a phone call.
  - make sure their birthday is entered
- Under the Extended Info tab
  - make sure you enter the Responsible Adult
    - also, label the adult as "Responsible Adult"
    - the adult signing the child up for a library card is actually the owner of the card. That's why it is important to list the adult.

Please, let me or your supervisor know if you have any questions.

Thank you for all that you do!

Subject: Updated Information from Collections

Hello,

There has been some confusion on a few things so I wanted to send out a reminder that will hopefully help clear up everything.

Interlibrary Loan

Since Grant's departure, Collections has taken over Interlibrary Loan. We are still figuring out our process of handling it all so please be patient with us. For right now, please place ILL items on the top bookshelf by Taylor's desk. We will let you know if that changes.

Book Clubs

There are multiple book clubs hosted or housed by our Benton library so I wanted to share some updated information:

Adultish Book Club

The Adultish Book Club is a group of bookish people who meet on the last Thursday of every month to discuss the latest book pick at the Saline County Library. They meet in the Upper Commons at the Benton location. The books are picked from genres in both young adult and adult fiction. Group favorites lean towards magical realism, science fiction, fantasy, and contemporary romance. They do host in-person/virtual author events so you will meet some of the authors of their book picks. The Adultish Book Club is also planning some fun extra events including a group movie night at the local movie theater later this year. Anyone interested in joining can ask to join the Adultish Book Club Facebook Group for more information.

2023 Meeting Schedule

March 30th: Hope Takes the Reins (Jenny McLeod Carlisle) [Local Author In-Person Event]

April 27th: When the Ice Melts (Ashlyn Ohm) [Local Author In-Person Event]

May 11th: Group Movie Showing of Book Club: The Next Chapter [Cinemark Tinseltown USA in Benton @7pm]

May 25th: Twisted Love (Ana Huang) [Virtual Author Meeting]

June 29th: The Snow Cat Prince (Dina Norlund); The Tea Dragon Society (K. O'Neill) [Graphic Novel Month]

July 27th: Neon Gods (Katee Robert) [Virtual Author Meeting]

August 31st: Barbarian Lover & Barbarian Mine (both by Ruby Dixon) [Romance Series Continuation]

September 28th: Prometheus' Priestess (Gwyneth Lesley) [Virtual Author Meeting]

October 26th: Firekeeper's Daughter (Angeline Boulley)

November 30th: Whip It (Shauna Cross) [Book to Movie Comparison]

December 2nd (Saturday): Whip It Movie Showing at the Library [Book to Movie Comparison]
December 28th: Holiday Book Exchange Party [with the Local Author Book Club]

The current Book Club Kits for the Adultish Book Club are kept on the bottom shelf of the shelves right by the book drop near the front desk and the door for the book drop most of the time hides the shelves. The previous book club kits for Adultish that still have copies signed out are kept on the purple cart near Lyndsey's desk in the Collections office.

Helpful Note: These books will be numbered on the top part of the spine. There's a flyer by the Adultish Basket that has the books listed with book cover images.

If you have any questions about Adultish, please contact Lyndsey.

Benton Library Book Club

The Benton Library Book Club meets on the second Monday of the month from 4:30 PM to 5:30 PM. The club is currently meeting via Zoom. Most liked genres in the club include historical fiction, thrillers (but no horror), unusual and touching stories, well-written books like Killers of the Flower Moon, and books with interesting facts. If anyone is interested in joining the Benton Library Book Club, email Stacy and she will get them in contact with Leah.

Helpful Note: These books will be numbered on the top right corner of the front cover and they are owned by the Arkansas State Library. There's not a three day due date for the holds of when the book club members need to pick up their books so please leave the books on the hold shelf and Collections will take them off when we need to. Please continue to put the returned books on Stacy's desk.

If you have any questions about Benton Library Book Club, please contact Stacy.

Monday Afternoon Book Club

The Monday Afternoon Book Club meets the first Monday of the month at 1:00 PM at the Benton Chamber of Commerce. If that Monday is a holiday, they meet on the second Monday. The subjects and genres of books vary widely. If you are interested in joining the Monday Afternoon Book Club, email Susie.

Here is the 2023 Schedule:

January 9, 2023 – From the Corner of His Eye by Dean Koontz (2000)

February 6, 2023 – Snow Falling on Cedars by David Guterson (1994)

March 6, 2023 – Greatest Generation by Tom Brokaw (1998)

April 3, 2023 – Boys of Biloxi by John Grisham (2022)

May 1, 2023 – Bernice Runs Away by Talya Tate Boerner (2022)

The current Book Club Kits for the Monday Afternoon Book Club are kept on the top shelf of the shelves right by the book drop near the front desk and the door for the book drop most of the time hides the shelves. The previous book club kits for the Monday Afternoon Book Club that still have copies signed out are kept in Susie's office.

Helpful Note: These books will be numbered on the top part of the spine. The book club kits are the same as the ones for Adultish so please refer to the schedules to know which group it belongs to.

If you have any questions about Monday Afternoon Book Club, please contact Susie.

Local Author Book Club

If you love supporting local authors, then this is the book club for you! Local Author Book Club meets on the second Thursday of every other month at 5:30 PM in the Upper Commons Area or the Meeting Room at the Benton Library. They will select books from local authors as well as host local events whenever possible. Those interested can join the Local Author Book Club Facebook Group for more information.

Subject: About Me Bio

Hi Austin.

We have an about the staff page on our website. Can you please review the information below and create a short bio about yourself and send to Francesca.

Thanks!

- Short biography: This can be as generic OR as detailed as you choose. Some things you can include:
  - Job responsibilities (or what the patron would see you doing on a typical day at the library)
  - Interesting facts about yourself
  - Any awards or accomplishments
  - Education/career background

- Hobbies/brief information about your family
- Notes: Again, you do NOT have to include your last name or any personal information if you choose not to; please write in thirdperson.
- Examples:
  - Basic overview: Dwight is the Assistant to the Regional Manager at Dunder Mifflin. Thanks to his influence, the Scranton branch was able to secure new advancements in wellness (specifically, CPR mask demonstrations), fire safety (he created the now-named Shrute fire drill) and recycling (namely: Recyclops). He also served as a volunteer sheriff in Lackawanna County. Dwight can typically be seen on sales calls and ensuring safety in the office.
  - Adding some fun/personality details: Dwight is the Assistant to the Regional Manager at Dunder Mifflin. Thanks to his influence, the Scranton branch was able to secure new advancements in wellness (specifically, CPR mask demonstrations), fire safety (he created the now-named Shrute fire drill) and recycling (namely: Recyclops). He also served as a volunteer sheriff in Lackawanna County. Dwight can typically be seen on sales calls and ensuring safety in the office. In addition to his tenure at Dunder Mifflin, Dwight enjoys a prolific career as a beet farmer at Shrute Farms, which is home to a renowned bed and breakfast. Dwiaht has affinities for paintball, Battlestar Galactica, ping pong, survivalism, Goju Ryu karate, and weapons. He also has a preference to ride in the back seat of cars behind the driver, because it is the safest location in a car. He takes Karate very seriously, having gained a black belt.
- OPTIONAL: Send a list of your top five favorite books/movies/video games/etc. that you can check out at the library. We will be using these to create "book rivers" on your individual pages.

Identifying & Overcoming Burnout: ARSL Professional Resource Discussion Group

The ARSL Professional Development Book Club is now the ARSL Professional Resource Discussion Group! A few times a year we invite members and nonmembers to come together to discuss a selection of resources on a specific topic of particular interest to the needs of library professionals working in small, rural libraries. The Continuing Education Committee will curate a list of suggested reading and listening material in a variety of formats and lengths in an effort to provide right-size resources for every schedule.

Spring 2023 Discussion Group

Wednesday, April 12, 2023 | Both sessions will discuss the same materials. Attend the session that fits your schedule!

This month's Professional Resource Discussion Group will focus on identifying and overcoming burnout. Read, listen to, and watch the resources below and come to one of the two sessions for an interactive discussion.

ARSL 2024 Board Elections

As a member-led organization ARSL relies on its volunteer Board of Directors to provide strategic vision and leadership. Giving of your time and talents to serve on the Board represents a significant commitment to our organization and to the entire community of rural & small libraries. We appreciate everyone who is willing to step up and volunteer!

Open Positions, 2024 Board of Directors

The following positions will be up for election for the 2024 Board of Directors. Leadership terms will begin January 1, 2024. Click on any position name to view the position description and learn more about the expectations of that office.

- Vice President/President-Elect (3-year term; includes 1 year each as Vice President, President, and Past-President)
- Treasurer (2-year term)
- Midwest Regional Representative (2-year term)
- West Regional Representative (2-year term)

Any ARSL member interested in running for an open Board position must fill out and submit the Candidacy Form to officially declare their candidacy.

Candidates Forums

Last year the Elections Committee piloted the Candidate Town Hall meetings to give ARSL members an opportunity to ask questions of the candidates ahead of the voting window. Based on feedback from those meetings the committee has adapted their approach for this year.

All candidates for a given position will be invited to participate in a one-time Candidates Forum that includes all candidates for that position. The Elections Committee hopes that this approach will improve accessibility for members. The ARSL membership will be invited to submit questions for the candidates to the Elections Committee in advance of each meeting.

Changes to Regional Representative Voting

Ensuring that each of our four ARSL Regions (South, Northeast, Midwest, and West) has a representative on the Board prompted the creation of our four Regional Representative positions in 2020. These Regional Representatives serve as a conduit of information and communication for their Region in Board discussions and contribute to the diversity of viewpoints that makes our association strong. Based on feedback from members during the last election cycle, the Elections Committee has determined that voting for the Regional Representative positions will be limited to only ARSL members currently working in those Regions. We would encourage all ARSL members to visit your member profile to ensure your information is accurate, particularly if you have recently relocated.

Request for Proposals: 2023 ARSL Conference Sessions

ARSL Conference | September 20-23, 2023 | Wichita, KS

This year's conference theme is "Unite & Ignite"! Our conference provides an opportunity to unite as a professional community and foster a sense of togetherness across a nation of small but mighty libraries. When we come together to share and learn we'll light fires of innovation and change that can burn bright all year long.

The Request for Proposals (RFP) for 2023 ARSL Conference Sessions is now open!

Are you a community engagement superstar? Have a storytime formula that can't be beat? Do your reader's advisory recommendations always hit the mark? We need YOU to present at ARSL 2023! The program presenters are the heart of the conference, bringing valuable skills and experience to share with fellow attendees.

RFP Launch Date: TODAY!

Submission Deadline: April 25, 2023, 5:00 pm CT

Ready to get started? Download the sample RFP form to preview the questions. Check out our Tips for a Great Program Proposal to help polish your submission!

New this year: Pop-Up Program Demos

If the thought of lecturing at the front of the room turns your legs to jelly our pop-up program demos might be the opportunity you've been waiting for! These 20-minute sessions will give presenters the opportunity to demo a craft or other library program piece for small groups of attendees. These practical, actionable demo sessions will let programming pros share their ideas in a less intimidating, more familiar environment. Special consideration will be given to pop-up demos that incorporate intentional accessibility for patrons of different ages and ability levels.

Professional Networking & Affinity Groups

The ARSL Membership Committee is seeking a few additional volunteers to help start our Professional Networking Groups this year! We appreciate the robust response from people willing to lead discussions, and those who have submitted ideas of their own.

The following groups currently only have one volunteer facilitator. To lighten the leadership load on any one volunteer we are seeking additional volunteers to serve as co-facilitators. Some of the groups below were suggested by current volunteers and may be merged together based on member demand and facilitator availability. Please respond by Friday March 31 if you are interested in co-facilitating one of these groups. You can use the "Other" option on the form to write-in the group(s) you would like to co-facilitate.

- Readers Advisory
- Librarians with Disabilities
- Neurodivergent Librarians
- Librarians Serving Latino/a/e/x Communities
- Librarians Serving Marginalized Communities

Once co-facilitators have been identified the Membership Committee and ARSL Office will work with them to set a standing meeting time and promote the groups to ARSL members. All networking groups will be held in ARSL Zoom rooms on a standing schedule. Meetings will be drop-in style, with no obligation to stay the full hour. Networking groups (with the exception of the existing Solo-ish Librarians HH) are open to ARSL members only.

Jade Song's debut novel Chlorine is a starred fiction selection. "In this unnerving and poignant coming-of-age tale, fans of the sapphic longing of Plain Bad Heroines by Emily M. Danforth or the razor sharp, surreal storytelling of The Pisces by Melissa Broder will be captivated by a young woman desperate to escape her reality for her destiny.... Like the scent of chlorine on one's skin, this not-to-be-missed debut novel lingers." Jana Goes Wild, by Farah Heron, is a starred romance title. "This satisfying second-chance romance offers a big-hearted, clear-eyed examination of parenting and rekindling of old flames." Once Upon a Tome: The Misadventures of a Rare Bookseller, a debut novel by former antiquarian bookseller Oliver Darkshire, is a starred literature title. "A funny and witty memoir about life in the antiquarian book trade. Avid readers will love it." And Susan Mallery's The Sister Effect is another starred

Accessibility at Work: Offering Information Services to Diverse Populations April 19, 2023: 4pm – 5pm (ET)

In the world of diversity, equity and inclusion, librarians need to confirm that the classes we teach, the marketing and training materials we produce for our patrons, and the websites we use to offer resources and instruction are accessible to all users. Paying attention to accessibility factors in our work product shows that we understand that our users have different requirements, and we will include accommodations for those requirements so that what we have to offer is available to all of our patrons.

Fred Moltz, CAO of Verizon's Office of Accessibility, will clue us in on how we can offer our services to a diverse audience using accessibility tools. Fred's experience includes over 23 years at Verizon in multiple strategic roles, including the last 7 years building Verizon's Accessibility Program from the ground up. Fred's mission is to provide continued leadership that incorporates Accessibility by Design in all aspects of Verizon that will provide exceptional experiences for all employees and customers. Fred and his team work daily to "Engage Everyone and Reimagine Accessibility."

CoLibri Covers Help Reduce Greenhouse Gas Emissions

CoLibri covers are made of a clear, transparent and resistant polyethylene, however, differently from the original polyethylene, CoLibri covers are made of Green Polyethylene (GREEN™PE), which is polyethylene but made from sugarcane, instead of petroleum or natural gas.

Green Polyethylene guarantees the same characteristics of petrochemical polyethylene in terms of applications, functionality and recyclability, with a major advantage: since it is made from sugarcane, its production process captures carbon dioxide from the atmosphere. That is why we can say that I'm Green plastic helps reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Spending has impact. We're here to help measure that.

Changing processes can be intimidating, especially for government agencies that may use legacy technology or reporting systems. We understand this, so we're here to help with resources, as well as a team that can support your agency through transition. As an admin, you can manage features for your organization that help it to reach its goals, saving your team valuable time so they can get back to the community they serve. Let's talk about why this is crucial for government organizations specifically:

The way government agencies spend their money can influence social issues in their city and state. Socially responsible purchasing is how organizations make a conscious effort to operate in ways that positively impact society's economic, social, and environmental development.

Responsible purchasing doesn't have a one-size-fits-all approach and can differ across teams. Agencies looking to improve responsible purchasing performance will need to manage the short-term goal of transitioning existing procurement practices, while driving the long-term goal of inclusivity across the supply chain and organization.

Amazon Business helps your organization streamline this process, while also providing reporting tools to track your impact.

Check out our infographic with three action steps, including examples and resources for more information.

Denied! Why 90% of Grant Applications Don't Get Funded

April 6, 2023; 2:00-3:00PM Eastern

Accessing more than 30 years of combined grantseeeking and grantmaking experiences, this workshop reveals the hidden barriers to successfully navigating the grant application process. Grant proposals are declined for a variety of reasons, even though these projects have great merit. This unfortunate event can happen often, and it can be devastating to project teams who have invested many hours pursuing an award for worthy causes. It can often be most helpful to learn where we may misjudge, omit, miscalculate, or ignore small details to own detriment. Join us to learn the factors that cause this to happen so you can anticipate these surprising pitfalls.

The workshop will cover topics related to:

- Common mistakes made in assessing whether a project and its budget are a good match for a particular funding opportunity;
- How proposals are evaluated by reviewers and understanding the identities of reviewers: and
- Where application content can easily go wrong when it comes to specific application materials like narratives, letters, appendixes, and more.

Learn the pitfalls you can avoid to give your applications a more competitive chance of being awarded.

Outcomes:

- Knowledge of common mistakes made at every stage of the grantseeking process
- Greater understanding of reviewer protocols, comments, and viewpoints, and what can happen during the review process
- Learning about the most common mistakes made by applicants

Presenter: Bess de Farber has provided grantseeking instruction and collaboration workshops to thousands of library staff, nonprofit and academic professionals, artists, and university students in the past 33 years, and has led efforts to secure millions in grant funding for academic libraries and nonprofits.

So it will totally look fake and I will let people know. Also, Do you guys have any other ideas of where we can put this ad and test the ROI? I am thinking a courier ad. Are you a community engagement superstar? Have a storytime formula that can't be beat? Do your reader's advisory recommendations always hit the mark? We need YOU to present at ARSL 2023! The program presenters are the heart of the conference, bringing valuable skills and experience to share with fellow attendees.

RFP Launch Date: TODAY!

Subject: Notification of Passport Program Inspection 03/29/2023

Dear Ms. Wallace,

This message is regarding your scheduled (in-person) inspection on March 29, 2023, at approximately 11:00 a.m. of the MABEL BOSWELL MEMORIAL LIBRARY. The U.S. Department of State, Passport Services' Office of Acceptance Facility Oversight (AFO), oversees compliance of the Passport Application Acceptance Program (PAAP) through inspections of passport application acceptance facilities. AFO is headquartered in Washington, D.C.

- The inspection could last several hours;
- A certified passport acceptance agent must be available to the inspector for interview/observation;
- DO NOT cancel any scheduled passport application appointments during the inspection time, the observation of acceptance may shorten the process;
- Applications taken the day of the appointment may be reviewed; and
- The manager in charge of the facility's passport program should be available.

Additionally, the following items should be available:

- Up-to-date recertification paperwork;
- Up-to-date training records for each active agent;

- Application volume for the most recent complete fiscal year; and
- Transmittal records.

Your cooperation with all the above will facilitate and avoid delays with the inspection process.

Thanks,

It's definitely more important for flyers outside of the building. I'm too worried about flyers in the building needing them. I just thought it would be easier to use the same flyers in the building as outside. The reason for having it on the flyers in the building is for consistency and also provide information that people still may not know. It's like a reminder of our other locations and how to contact us when they leave. But it doesn't have to be on flyers in the building

Okay.

Just spit balling here, but since the footer has information including the phone number and address and times of the branches, does it seem pointless to have them on flyers posted in the building they are currently in?

I totally see the point on having those on flyers that are posted outside of the building, but it seems unneccassry to have them on flyers in the building.

Just my opinion.

All flyers should have them. The header is new but the footer is something that has been around for a while and supposed to be on all flyers. I noticed it has slowly been forgotten about so that's why I brought it up. The header is a transparent image so hopefully it shouldn't be too hard to add. Remember this is only for Summer Reading events for the header.

Can you clarify some things for me? All Summer Reading programs flyers need to have a header? And is the footer for flyers going out of the building or ALL flyers? This is the first I have heard of either thing so I may need to redo every flyer to add these details as it will change the spacing of most of my designs.

To: managers@salinecountylibrary.org < managers@salinecountylibrary.org >

As you know we've been looking at our services to East End for a while now. We've added a bookmobile stop and holds lockers. I've been following the building that's going on. The economy has not slowed it down. They have two different large building projects (450 houses and 700 houses) plus lots of independent contractors building all around the area. I visited a commercial site that has space in a neighborhood and across from a new Middle School. It is on Arch St. I feel like we should jump on this even though it is a little sooner than I planned. We could have a nice space of 3,000 sq. ft. in a great area. I'm asking the board to let me continue with researching with the possibility of renting and opening a branch.

There will be more information in the board packet. I didn't want to surprise you with it since we didn't talk about it at our last managers meeting.

If you have any concerns, please let me know.

I know every department has needs especially for more staff. It's hard to balance everything. I just think if we lose this opportunity, we will regret it.

Harvard Business Review: Words and Phrases to Avoid in a Difficult Conversation

Patty Hector <pattyh@salinecountylibrary.org>

Thu 3/23/2023 6:33 PM

To: managers@salinecountylibrary.org < managers@salinecountylibrary.org >

Words and Phrases to Avoid in a Difficult Conversation

When you're in the middle of a difficult conversation, it's common to focus solely on yourself: your ideas, your viewpoint, your feelings. But a "me-centric" approach can backfire.

Harvard Business Review

James R. Detert

Illustration by Aron Vellekoop León

Difficult conversations are difficult for a reason, and when you're anxious or stressed out, it's easy to say the wrong thing. And it doesn't matter how prepared you are. Your best laid plans will go to waste if you offend or anger the other person.

Over twenty years of teaching and research, which I describe in my book Choosing Courage, I've found that people often forget a critical point: When navigating a difficult conversation, you need to craft your message while keeping the other person's feelings and opinions in mind.

Below are some of the most common mistakes I've observed — words and phrases that can slip into our vocabulary — and explanations for why they often cause trouble.

Don't assume your viewpoint is obvious

Sometimes, if you feel like you're 100 percent right, you may use words such as "clearly," "obviously," or "beyond doubt." If you do this, you're falling prey to naive realism — the belief that you're privy to some objective reality that others will clearly see and agree with.

We're seldom in such an objectively black-or-white situation, and reasonable people may see things differently than you or need more convincing to come around to your viewpoint. Not surprisingly, when your words (inadvertently) suggest that any divergent views are stupid or inconsequential, others may feel railroaded or insulted. If you've really made your case persuasively, there's no need to potentially derail the outcome by stating your own views about how obvious or beyond a doubt something is.

Don't exaggerate

When you're speaking with someone who has upset you on multiple occasions, you may find yourself inadvertently resorting to using phrases such as "You always ..." or "You never..." Exaggeration will undermine your overall credibility and lead to a debate about frequency instead of substance. "That's not true," the person is likely to retort, before proceeding to tell you about the specific date or occasion that runs counter to your claim.

If your intent is to get someone to start or stop doing something, keep the focus on that.

Don't tell others what they should do

Telling someone what they should do contains an implicit value judgment. "You should do X" implies that X is the way things ought to be.

Sure, if you're a leader responsible for a group's values and culture, sometimes it's necessary to be very clear about what should be done or how people should treat each other. Other times, though, especially when you're not the boss of the person you're speaking to, "shoulding" won't make them willing to comply.

People feel judged by "should" statements — as if they wouldn't come to the right conclusion without your input — when they'd prefer to decide for themselves what to do.

Phrases like, "You might consider" or "One possibility is" or "Have you thought of?" increase your odds of having the conversation and influence you seek.

Don't blame others for your feelings

If you're upset about something someone said or did, it's natural to have an emotional reaction. You're human. But stating the cause of those feelings is unhelpful and counterproductive.

For example, imagine your colleague interrupts you when you start to speak and you immediately experience physical reactions — your face flushes, your heart rate spikes. You may feel the urge to say, "You make me so angry when you interrupt me," but, if you do so, there's a good chance you'll end up in an argument.

Why? Because people hate being blamed for things — especially for words or actions that harmed others. So instead of apologizing or agreeing to change their behavior, they'll defend themselves — their specific words and overall intentions or character.

You could choose to say, "Hey, when you interrupt me so quickly like that, I feel disrespected (or hurt or angry). Could you please not do that?" Or you could say, "Could you please not interrupt me until I'm finished?" Or you could not say anything about your feelings at all and stick to the topic at hand.

Don't challenge someone's character or integrity

You may feel that what someone has done is "unprofessional," "wrong," or "unethical." But, if you use words like these, there's a good chance the target will become defensive. Humans have a strong need to see themselves as decent and moral. If you describe their problematic behavior in ways that threaten their core sense of self then the person is more likely to shift from the issue at hand to a defense of their character.

Instead, try starting with phrases that only question if or convey something is undesirable or suboptimal. Suggest that missing deadlines "detracts from our mission" rather than labeling it "unprofessional," or that changing numbers to make your unit's performance look better is "inconsistent with our core values" or "likely to undermine trust and our focus on learning" rather than calling it "wrong" or "unethical."

Don't say "It's not personal"

In my experience, people say "It's not personal" or "Don't take it personally" when they (subconsciously) know it's quite personal for the other person.

There's a great example of this in the movie You've Got Mail when the big-box bookstore executive (Tom Hanks) tells the small, independent bookstore owner (Meg Ryan) that it's not personal that he's going to put her multi-generational family bookstore out of business by opening a massive store nearby. That's deeply personal to her so, understandably, hearing this phrase only makes Meg Ryan's character even angrier.

When someone is hurt, angry, or otherwise clearly affected by something you've said or done, telling them it's not personal only adds insult to injury. If you actually care, why not acknowledge and own that it is personal to them, even if not to you? If you can't do that, don't say anything about "personal" at all. Let me end by commenting on one more phrase: "Don't sweat the small stuff." Unfortunately, that's not great advice in the realm of difficult conversations. You can get a lot of stuff right (your persuasive core arguments, your data and solutions, the setting and timing) and still see your objectives derailed by the seemingly small communication missteps described above.

The good news is that getting the small stuff right too is imminently doable - it just takes commitment to notice and minimize the use of these problematic words and phrases.

I let Francesca know that we are officially going to say we will be closed April 10-15, so that y'all can make a "mark your calendars" type graphic and get it up. Can you also do an alert bar on the website so that it's visible for patron. All electronic resources will be accessible during this time, so patrons can still place holds, use Libby, Hoopla, etc.; they just won't be able to come into the library to check-out/pick-up items and use computers, faxing, or printing services.

Good Morning All,

I hope you all had a great and restful weekend. I have a few questions about events that will be going on during the week we will be closed to the public for renovation.

Will any of the events be relocated to Bryant that are in Benton? If so, I will need to update FB events and T.V. tiles for April will need to be changed ASAP.

If events will not be relocated and cancelled, please let me know ASAP, so I can cancel the Facebook event change T.V. Tile Etc.

My last question, when do I need to start posting that we will be closed for this week. I know people like to plan ahead and some patrons might become axious if their weekly schedules are changed.

Thank you,

A LibraryWorks presentation ...

Denied! Why 90% of Grant Applications Don't Get Funded

April 6, 2023; 2:00-3:00PM Eastern

Accessing more than 30 years of combined grantseeeking and grantmaking experiences, this workshop reveals the hidden barriers to successfully navigating the grant application process. Grant proposals are declined for a variety of reasons, even though these projects have great merit. This unfortunate event can happen often, and it can be devastating to project teams who have invested many hours pursuing an award for worthy causes. It can often be most helpful to learn where we may misjudge, omit, miscalculate, or ignore small details to own detriment. Join us to learn the factors that cause this to happen so you can anticipate these surprising pitfalls.

The workshop will cover topics related to:

- Common mistakes made in assessing whether a project and its budget are a good match for a particular funding opportunity;
- How proposals are evaluated by reviewers and understanding the identities of reviewers: and
- Where application content can easily go wrong when it comes to specific application materials like narratives, letters, appendixes, and more.

Learn the pitfalls you can avoid to give your applications a more competitive chance of being awarded.

Outcomes:

- Knowledge of common mistakes made at every stage of the grantseeking process
- Greater understanding of reviewer protocols, comments, and viewpoints, and what can happen during the review process
- Learning about the most common mistakes made by applicants

Presenter: Bess de Farber has provided grantseeking instruction and collaboration workshops to thousands of library staff, nonprofit and academic professionals, artists, and university students in the past 33 years, and has led efforts to secure millions in grant funding for academic libraries and nonprofits.

Grizzly 399 will be out from hibernation soon, and we are excited to see if she has new cubs!

Grizzly 399 is a well-known bear in North America. At age twenty-four—a ripe old age for a grizzly—she was thought to be too old to have cubs. But in the spring of 2020, she emerged from her den with four beautiful babies. This is an imaginary tale of what might happen in the bear family's first year and the cubs' antics while all five try to hibernate in a tight den! There is a fact section about bears and hibernation at the back of the book. Illustrated by Morgan Spicer with beautiful photos by Thomas D. Mangelsen.

Subject: Homelessness and bacon

One evening, I had dinner with a Canadian librarian.

He told me that he started volunteering at his local homeless shelter during the breakfast shift. He wanted to get to know his library's homeless patrons better.

When a co-worker asked him why, his answer was very simple (and brilliant):

"You don't take a swing at the guy who gives you bacon."

I think this is literally true, but it also has many extensions:

- People tend not to shout at people who say "good morning" to them.
- People tend not to throw things at people who take the time to learn their name.
- People tend not to shove people who smile at them.
- People tend not to punch people who are nice to them.

In our training, we use the "pennies in the cup" method to explain relationship building and how it relates to rule enforcement. It's a great method and works for dealing with all patrons, not just homeless ones.

So, remember the "bacon guy" and be nice to people. Not only is it the right thing to do, but you will also be treated much better.

Peace,

Ryan

Full-timers, we will be putting 8:30-4:30 pm on our timesheets for this week. If you usually come in at 8, get with me beforehand.

Part-timers, get with me about your schedules. It'll need to be between those hours Monday-Friday/Saturday.

Monday, April 10th, we will be having staff development at Benton. (More information will come out about this.) We will also be (hopefully) scheduling a tour of the Gann Museum. Other than that, we will be working on a variety of projects that need to be done.

Due dates for items will be May 1st.

We won't be able to check in anything since the pads and computers will be down. We'll have to check in once everything is back up and running. The outside book drop will remain open, so we'll continue to check it.

Please be sure to read the Managers' Meeting notes when they come out for more information!

They are hoping to have everything back up and running that Friday or Saturday so if it's your Saturday to work, please still keep that in mind. If we aren't opened by Saturday, you'll still report to work as usual.

I'll probably have more information after Managers' Meeting tomorrow.

"The Last Thing He Told Me by Laura Dave is a fast-moving, heartfelt thriller about the sacrifices we make for the people we love most."

—Real Simple

"Dave's neat trick is to unveil revelations at a brisk clip that does not overwhelm character development. The novel's richness comes from the way Hannah and Bailey realize they need each other in the face of staggering loss; the mutual trust that grows between them is genuinely moving. As both daughter and stepmother come to realize, 'That's how you fill in the blanks—with stories and memories from the people who love you."

I have a very special deal for you today! I have approximately 30+ quasi-hexagonal pieces of glass, roughly 9-inches in size. They pre-date my employment with SCL and have been in the Adult Programming Closet (aka The Room of Requirement) for Merlin only knows how long. Shockingly, I do not have a use for them. So, before I put them into glass recycling, I thought I'd reach out to see if anyone might want to take them off my hands.

First one to respond gets 'em!

Subject: RE: Fishing Poles

Hey Rebecca,

It makes more sense for you to change the items over there instead of bringing them over here since you're just adjusting the item records. Please go ahead and replace the lost/repair fishing pole barcodes (that aren't attached to a patron's account) with the five new ones. I would suggest using "Call Number and Item Maintenance" window under the Common Tasks tab for Cataloging. That window will allow you to change everything in the item record. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Thanks, Lyndsey

Subject: Fishing Poles

Good afternoon!

We received new fishing poles from Game and Fish. There are several fishing poles in WorkFlows for Bryant that are either in "Repair," which were picked up and replaced and/or assumed lost, but not fied to a patron's account.

The 5 new fishing poles need barcodes, which we have. Could I just change the barcodes to those that aren't tied to any patron's record so these become available?

I was just trying to make this easier on y'all and not have to send them over if it was something I could do. And of this doesn't make sense, let me know.

Thanks! 🙂

This year's conference theme is "Unite & Ignite"! Our conference provides an opportunity to unite as a professional community and foster a sense of togetherness across a nation of small but mighty libraries. When we come together to share and learn we'll light fires of innovation and change that can burn bright all year long.

Conference Scholarship Applications Open April 4!

Each year the ARSL Grants, Awards & Scholarships (GAS) Committee accepts applications for four competitive scholarships to facilitate attendance to the ARSL Conference. These scholarships are funded through generous donations to the ARSL Scholarship Fund by our members and supporters!

Interested applicants may apply for any/all scholarships for which they are eligible in a given year. All successful applicants will be awarded one (1) scholarship from among those applied for, as outlined on our Conference Scholarships page. Click the button below to learn more!

About ARSL Conference Scholarships

New This Year: The Empowering Library Workers of Color Conference Scholarship

Library workers of color have been, and in many places continue to be, given access to fewer opportunities for professional growth and advancement. Establishing this scholarship is part of ARSL's ongoing commitment to cultivating an intentionally inclusive professional community that amplifies the voices and lived experiences of library workers of color while also acknowledging the persistent structural inequalities within our profession.

Applicants for this scholarship must be members of one or more marginalized and/or underrepresented ethnic, racial, or cultural identity groups within our profession (including but not limited to Black or African American; American Indian, First Nations, or Alaskan Native; Spanish, Hispanic, or Latine/a/o/x; Asian; Native Hawaiian, Samoan, Chamorro, or other Pacific Islander; Middle Eastern or North African).

Request for Program Proposals

The Request for Proposals (RFP) for 2023 ARSL Conference Sessions is open!

Are you a community engagement superstar? Have a storytime formula that can't be beat? Do your reader's advisory recommendations always hit the mark? We need YOU to present at ARSL 2023! The program presenters are the heart of the conference, bringing valuable skills and experience to share with fellow attendees.

Submission Deadline: April 25, 2023, 5:00 pm CT

Ready to get started? Download the sample RFP form to preview the questions. Check out our Tips for a Great Program Proposal to help polish your submission!

New this year: Pop-Up Program Demos

If the thought of lecturing at the front of the room turns your legs to jelly our pop-up program demos might be the opportunity you've been waiting for! These 20-minute sessions will give presenters the opportunity to demo a craft or other library program piece for small groups of attendees. These practical, actionable demo sessions will let programming pros share their ideas in a less intimidating, more familiar environment. Special consideration will be given to pop-up demos that incorporate intentional accessibility for patrons of different ages and ability levels.

Identifying & Overcoming Burnout: ARSL Professional Resource Discussion Group

The ARSL Professional Development Book Club is now the ARSL Professional Resource Discussion Group! A few times a year we invite members and nonmembers to come together to discuss a selection of resources on a specific topic of particular interest to the needs of library professionals working in small, rural libraries. The Continuing Education Committee will curate a list of suggested reading and listening material in a variety of formats and lengths in an effort to provide right-size resources for every schedule.

Spring 2023 Discussion Group

Professional Networking & Affinity Groups

The ARSL Membership Committee is seeking a few additional volunteers to help start our Professional Networking Groups this year! We appreciate the robust response from people willing to lead discussions, and those who have submitted ideas of their own.

The following groups currently only have one volunteer facilitator. To lighten the leadership load on any one volunteer we are seeking additional volunteers to serve as co-facilitators. Some of the groups below were suggested by current volunteers and may be merged together based on member demand and facilitator availability. Please respond by Friday March 31 if you are interested in co-facilitating one of these groups. You can use the "Other" option on the form to write-in the group(s) you would like to co-facilitate.

- Readers Advisory
- Librarians with Disabilities
- Neurodivergent Librarians
- Librarians Serving Latino/a/e/x Communities
- Librarians Serving Marginalized Communities

Once co-facilitators have been identified the Membership Committee and ARSL Office will work with them to set a standing meeting time and promote the groups to ARSL members. All networking groups will be held in ARSL Zoom rooms on a standing schedule. Meetings will be drop-in style, with no obligation to stay the full hour. Networking groups (with the exception of the existing Solo-ish Librarians HH) are open to ARSL members only.

Good Afternoon,

I wanted to let everyone know that I was able to get in Monday, April 10th for CPR, Narcan, AED and Blood Stoppage training from (Thank you Rebecca!!). This is just a what to do training and some hands on, not a certification course. It will start at 10:00 AM on Monday Morning and last till 11:30 AM. Please make sure all staff are able to attend. Afterward since most of us all be here, I think it would be a great idea to do a potluck with the staff! I am going to send a sign-up sheet for people bring things. If you think potlucks are icky, that's fine bring your lunch and join us in the meeting room to hang out!

The schedule that week will be 8:30 AM - 4 PM with a working lunch. If you want to do a lunch with your staff off campus, I'm sure that will be fine. Obviously, part timers time will need to be condensed.

This is the agenda for Monday April 10th

8:30 - 9:15

- Merger Updates
- SB81 Q&A
- How the Salary Schedule works
- Themes for dress up days for Library Week
- Theme for Summer reading??? (Maybe? Kari, Wendy?)

9:15 - 10:00

• Some form of team building exercise or activity. Any ideas?? Games are always fun!

10:00 - 11:30

 CPR training with aka (tee hee)

11:30 - 12:00

Potluck fun!

Spend the rest of the day cleaning!

Does anyone have any announcements that they would like to share?

Maddalena and the Dark by Julia Fine

MADDALENA AND THE DARK

by Julia Fine

"Fine beguiles with this decadent tale of desire set in 18th-century Venice . . . [she] delivers a masterly exploration of the shifting power dynamics of the protagonists' relationship, particularly as Maddalena's devotion to Luisa curdles into obsession. With the alluring Venice backdrop, this will frighten and captivate in equal measure."

—Publishers Weekly, Starred Review

ALL THE SINNERS BLEED by S.A. Cosby

"In this superb thriller from Anthony Award winner Cosby, Titus Crown, the first Black sheriff of Charon County, Va., is investigating a high school shooting that leaves a history teacher and his killer dead . . . The hard-edged storytelling is supplemented by richly developed characters, especially Titus and his family, and Cosby elegantly layers his narrative over Virginia's racial history, giving the proceedings uncommon emotional depth. This is easily the author's strongest work to date."

—Publishers Weekly, Starred Review

Download

The First Bright Thing by J.R. Dawson

THE FIRST BRIGHT THING

by J.R. Dawson

"Dawson's debut is haunting, employing themes of gaslighting, trauma, and war, which are woven through dual points of view and multiple timelines. Judaism plays a role as well, both in the faith of the characters and through parallels of persecution. Dawson mashes up history, fantasy, and the magic of the circus in an emotionally immersive, character-driven story."

—Library Journal, Starred Review

The Archive Undying by

THE ARCHIVE UNDYING

by Emma Mieko Candon

"Al divinities and war machines provide the perfect setting for the characters to grapple with physical and mental upheaval and find strength in each other. The action-packed finale mixes mech battles with equally dramatic personal revelations. Will appeal to readers who like their giant robots paired with explorations of emotional intimacy and moving forward after trauma. A good purchase for large SFF collections."

Bag Run

Good morning!

From now on, can Public Services and Branch staff help load the bags that need to be transported between branches? Billy or Brittion, whoever is driving that day, will let y'all know when they begin loading so that the department knows when the run is happening. They will also help carry bags, but to help expedite the process, it would be great if the respective staffs at both branches can assist with it and do the majority of the bag transfer.

Thank you!

Wednesday April 12th, 2pm ET

Presented by: Agati Furniture and Library Journal

Event Date and Time: Wednesday, April 12, 2023 | 2:00 PM ET / 11:00 AM PT

Join us as we discuss the different behavior and work patterns Agati Furniture have observed over our 30+ years of designing for public spaces, as well as some of the best solutions for addressing those patterns. "Designing for Human Behavior" looks at the odd behaviors we humans exhibit when we are around unfamiliar people and in a strange place. The limbic system in our brains plays a strong role in the idiosyncratic and repetitive behavior patterns we see in public spaces. To maximize the effectiveness of public spaces and achieve the desired function, we must design with these behavioral patterns in mind.

During the presentation, Joe Agati, Director of Design & CIO at Agati Furniture will cover the following objectives:

- Create an understanding of Human behavior in the context of high volume public spaces
- Display the unique and varying ways humans interact with furniture and space in public settings.
- Describe the work and usage patterns that typically emerge in public spaces
- Show what furniture and design concepts best address how people behave in public spaces.

tl;dr: The bigger stats are more accurate.

The report I ran yesterday for just Rebecca only contained shelf locations that started with MB-YA-Color. However, last year we transitioned from sharing shelf locations (YA-Color) to branch-specific shelf loctions (MB-YA-Color), and I counted those old locations in the reports for Wendy.

We don't have a blue section, so we're looking into the two items. Looks like they're just wrong in WorkFlows. I also got a list of each item, how many times it's been checked out, last date checked out, etc. so we can weed. Looks like the red section is pretty popular, so we could add more books there and heavily weed green.

Would y'all want to keep the books we weed for East End?

Please make sure the April TV Tiles are in the April 2023 folder on SHAREPOINT. (Marketing often has to do things from home or fix things on the weekend so we need access to the files from locations outside of the network.) Even if it is a recurring program, please copy it into that folder. It's really hard for Fran and me to track down all the TV Tiles and then double check that the recurring programs are still happening. Right now, there are only 6 tiles in the folder. These are used for Facebook, newsletter, calendar, and TV Tiles so if we are missing any, all of those tasks get pushed back and that means less promotion for the events.

Also- the correct format for the tiles is below. All is center aligned.

So far this year, he has been able to sing karaoke, interview New York Times bestselling authors, and fill the parking lot of the Bob Herzfeld Memorial Library with pups as part of a pet adoption event. Not bad work.

The Martian Chronicles by Ray Bradbury

Reviewed by Haley Johnson, Library Assistant

The Martian Chronicles screams alien, yet familiar. It is a collection of loose anecdotes all set on the same planet, Mars, yet each story doesn't immediately flow into the next one. It's up to you to really connect the dots. As you read, the little stories prod you into understanding the bigger picture. Each little story/excerpt describes an event that takes place on the planet. These stories serve as a window to how the story of the colonization of Mars came to be, and its elected of the planet. These stories serve as a window to how the story of the colonization of Mars came to be, and its elected of the planet.

Happy Birthday!!!

This April, The Saline County Library is celebrating the 20th anniversary of the Bob Herzfeld Memorial Library building. The Bob Herzfeld Memorial building opened in 2003. In August 1998, Saline County voters approved a .7 precent millage increase and a quarter-cent countywide sales tax increase, which led to the construction of the library building in 2001 but the building was not dedicated until August of 2003.

One of the artifacts we discovered is an old Winchester rifle; however, this is no ordinary gun. The model 1873 Winchester is one of the most famous guns in the world. Known in its day as the "Gun that Won the West," the model 1873 Winchester was based on the famous Henry repeating rifles used in the American Civil War between 1861 and 1865. The Winchester in museum's collection was manufactured in New Haven, Connecticut, and it is designed for .38-40 rounds.

CELEBRATE NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

April 23rd - 29th

Libraries are full of stories in a variety of formats from picture books to large print, audiobooks to ebooks, and more. But there's so much more to the story. Library of Things lend items like book club kits, video games, hotspots, baking pans, and so much more.

Library programming brings communities together for entertainment, education, and connection through book clubs, storytimes, movie nights, crafting classes, and lectures. Library infrastructure advances communities, by providing internet and technology access, literacy skills, and support for businesses, job seekers, and entrepreneurs.

You can get involved in National Library Week by doing fun and silly things with us all week to celebrate all libraries!

Good Morning,

We had a lot of nominations this month! Everyone was so deserving, and this was a tough choice for us!! Winners can start parking in the special parking spot on Monday, or Saturday if you're scheduled to work •

Benton (2 nominations)

Francesca Castro

She cares for others, and she is great at her job. Fran does a great job in her department, and she is always coming up with ways to better the library. She had awesome ideas, and she is very creative!

She is always asking other departments if they need help and how she can help them if needed.

Francesca is doing a wonderful job of coming up with innovative ideas to reach out to more generations using social media platforms. This is her first job out of college, and she is growing and learning every day!

Since Fran started in August 2022, she created a TikTok page for SCL that currently has over 500 followers! She was mentioned in Super Marketing Library Blog after her talk about TikTok at the LMCC presentation she did last year. The blog mentioned how her success is so inspiring to other Library Marketers that have been in the game for a long time. That is outstanding!

Bryant

Anna Wagnon

Anna is absolutely fantastic with patrons! She goes above and beyond to help others, both patrons and coworkers. She constantly helps at the circulation desk, assists with programs, serves as a passport and notary agent, and more. The Seed Library is extremely popular and has been growing since it started. Just in two months this year, the number of requested seeds has hit an all-time high. Anna continues to work on improving the Seed Library with goodies, programs, and the popular seed swap.

Anna will always lend a hand, even if she's in the middle of a task. Her extensive knowledge about the library and services is extremely helpful at the Branch. She always makes new employees or visitors feel so welcome.

Congrats to our winners!! You deserve it!!

I've run a homeless shelter outside Chicago more than half my life.

When it comes to problem behaviors from troubled individuals, there's not much I haven't seen. I've broken up more fights than I can count and had a knife pulled on me (only once, thankfully).

But what I've learned over the years is the best approach to working with troubled individuals (and honestly everyone else!) is "empathy-driven enforcement."

I can't wait to tell you all about it.

Peace,

Ryan

P.S. Because you registered for our free webinar, you will receive our weekly newsletter with tips on how to handle problem behaviors from troubled individuals. Be sure to add ryan@homelesslibrary.com to your contacts to ensure they reach your inbox. Thanks!

Our check-in station laptop is not checking in items. We have restarted and the RFID is coming up and it does recognize items in the tag programmer but when you select check in and it goes back to Workflows to check the item in, it doesn't pick it up. The circ computers are both working fine and checking items in. We are just not sure what is wrong with the check-in laptop.

Under Scrutiny: Helping Staff Feel Safe and Empowered in the Face of Book Challenges

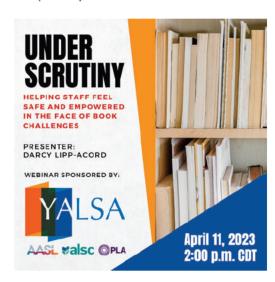

With Darcy Lipp-Acord. A free 90-minute webinar.

Tuesday, April 11, 2023

3:00 pm Eastern | 2:00 pm Central | 1:00 pm Mountain | 12:00 pm Pacific

This YALSA (Young Adult Library Services Association) webinar is sponsored by AASL (American Association of School Librarians), PLA (Public Library Association), and ALSC (Association for Library Service to Children).

All around the country, politically motivated challenges to library patrons' freedom to read and library staff members' ability to do their jobs are increasing. Many of these challenges have moved from simple complaints and removal requests to abusive, sometimes dangerous behavior.

In this new webinar, you'll hear from Darcy Lipp-Acord, the Youth Services Librarian at Campbell County Public Library in Gillette, WY. As someone who has been on the front lines of this harassment, she will present information linking strategies of book challenging groups with abusive behaviors typically found in domestic relationships and offer strategies for dealing with those behaviors as front-facing library staff.

You'll learn about common strategies used by political groups in their efforts to censor youth materials, how to identify and name these behaviors, and how doing so can empower library staff to develop proactive strategies for responding in ways that protect their safety and integrity.

If you no longer wish to receive YALSA announcements, opt out here.

A Proclamation Honoring The Victims Of The Tragedy In Nashville, Tennessee

As a mark of respect for the victims of the senseless acts of violence perpetrated on March 27, 2023, in Nashville, Tennessee, by the authority vested in me as President of the United States by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, I hereby order that the flag of the United States shall be flown at half-staff at the White House and upon all public buildings and grounds, at all military posts and naval stations, and on all naval vessels of the Federal Government in the District of Columbia and throughout the United States and its Territories and possessions until sunset, March 31, 2023. I also direct that the flag shall be flown at half-staff for the same length of time at all United States embassies, legations, consular offices, and other facilities abroad, including all military facilities and naval vessels and stations.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this twenty-seventh day of March, in the year of our Lord two thousand twenty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and forty-seventh.
